The Canadian Parliament Now in Session,

With a Big Job of Investigating on Hand.

Lord Stanley's Speech to the Members.

International Questions to be Considered.

The Two Countries Showing Signs of Getting Closer Together with Each Succeeding Year.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 25.—Parliament opened to-day with the government's majority increased from 29 to 43, as the result of the recent by-elections.

In Lord Stanley's speech the following reference is made to international questions:

"The negotiations with respect to seal fishing on Bering sea have been continued with a view to the adjustment by arbitration of the difficulties which have arisen between her majesty's government and that of the United States on the subject.

"Commissioners have been appointed by both governments to investigate the circumstances of seal life in Bering sea, to report thereon and to suggest the measures, if any, which they may deem necessary for its proper protection and preservation.

"The commissioners are proceeding with their deliberation in Washington, and the result will shortly be communicated to her majesty's government.

"I trust that their investigations and the determination of the agitators, who are to be appointed, may lead to a just, equitable settlement of this long pending difficulty.

"The meeting which had been arranged with the United States government for a day in October last for an informal discussion on the extension of trade between the two countries, and on other international matters requiring adjustment, was postponed at their request, but in compliance with a more recent intimation from that government, three of my ministers proceeded to Washington and conferred with the representatives of the administration of the United states on those subjects.

"An amicable understanding was arrived at respecting the steps to be taken for the establishment of the boundary of Alaska and for reciprocity of services in cases of wreck and salvage.

"Arrangements were also reached for the appointment of an international commission to report on the regulations which may be adopted by the United States and Canada for the prevention of destructive methods of fishing and the pollution of streams, and for establishing uniformity of close seasons and other means for the preservation and increase of fish.

"Valuable and friendly interchange of views respecting other important measures also took place."

The only legislation of importance foreshadowed in the speech are laws for the preservation of the British Columbia salmon fisheries and for amendments to the civil service act designed to prevent irregularities in the government departments.

While Lord Stanley made no reference to recent Canadian scandals, members of parliament say this session will be the most important held in years, and that much sensational debate is expected as well as a public charge against many men prominent in government circles.

WYANDOT COUNTY

Democrats Talk on Presidential Candidates.

Their Preferences About Equally Divided Between Hill and Cleveland.

Upper Sandusky, O., Feb. 25.—(Special)—The Bee correspondent has made a tour among our representative democrats on the matter of the presidential nomination, and secured the following preferences, 22 being for Cleveland, 18 for Hill, 8 for other favorites and 4 having no choice. The poll resulted as follows:

Hon. Robert McKelly—I think considerable of Cleveland, but fear we cannot elect him. Therefore favor Hill.

Gas Trustee Robert Kerr—Grover Cleveland. He has been tried and made a good president.

Mayor Jones—Undecided. Any good man will do.

County Treasurer J. A. Hare—Western man. Think neither Hill nor Cleveland can win.

W. B. Hitchcock, sr.—David Bennett Hill, of course, the man they cannot beat. If he has done what the republicans charge him with he is the man for me.

Dr. A. Billhardt—Hill. I think him the strongest, and of course we want a democratic president.

Adam Pontius—Hill. Think him more likely to carry New York than any other man. By his nomination we stand more show of electing a democratic president.

John Reilly—Cleveland first and last. Hill likely has the best show, but rather see Cleveland.

Probate Judge Berry—No choice.

E. N. Halbedel, local editor of Chief—Cleveland first and last. Made first-class president. Admire him for his evident honesty of purpose in all things.

C. B. Hare, secretary board of trade—For nominee. Against Cleveland, however.

A. K. Smalley, manager of the Western Union office—For the best democrat; think he should come from New York, however.

M. Reevess, late proprietor of the Pierson house—Hill. He is conservative on the silver question and has not antagonized the party.

County Surveyor Roll Dumm—Cleveland. Hill too much of a politician.

Judge Clayton—Fuller. Able and nothing can be said against him. His nomination will stop factional fight.

Superintendent Henderson, of the natural gas plant—Consider Hill the coming man.

'Squire Myers—Hill.

J. C. Drum—Cleveland. Has been tried and found true.

Dr. O. C. Stutz—Cleveland.

Benjamin F. Beck—Cleveland.

Dr. Francisco—Favor Cleveland, but think Hill the strongest.

County Clerk Kirk—Cleveland is my personal favorite, but we cannot elect him. Some other man.

Ex-Auditor Wirick—Cleveland.

Deputy Sheriff Gibson—Cleveland, a man who dares to be a democrat when democracy is on trial.

Recorder Karg—Cleveland.

County Auditor Parker—Any man outside of New York.

John Agerter—Cleveland man. Always has been.

Editor Tracht, of Chief—Great admirer of Cleveland but he has been beaten once and I don't think it good policy to run him again. Favor some Western man.

John Von Stein—Hill. Has made no mistake.

Charles Hunter—Cleveland first, Hill second.

Gas Tustee Phillip Gottfried—Hill.

Adam Grundtisch—Hill. I want a hustler.

Joel Gibson—Cleveland.

Samuel Walter—Cleveland. I want an honest man.

William Hitchcock, Jr.—Hill first, last and all the time.

Charley Liebenthal—Anybody but Hill. Cleveland.

George Tschanen—Dark horse.

William Tschanen—Think Cleveland as good as any.

P. O'Brien—Hill. Don't believe in running a man that has been defeated.

Prosecuting Attorney Elza Carter—Cleveland, because he is honest and fearless and because he knows what is right and has the courage to do it.

John Seider—Favor Cleveland, but don't think he will be nominated.

Jacob Grundtisch—Hill. We have run Cleveland and he was defeated.

John Paessler—Hill. Think him a mascott.

Adam Stutz—Hill.

William Epke—Palmer.

George Scheck—Cleveland.

C. J. Schell—Palmer or Flower.

Wellington Hare—Cleveland first and last.

C. H. Hare—Fuller.

Constable Little—Hill.

Ex-Representative Smalley—As between Hill and Cleveland, Hill is my choice. If the factional fight in New York continues, would prefer Palmer or Gray.

SENECA COUNTY GOSSIP.

Agricultural Society to Go Out of Business.

Hon. E. E. Stickney Dying at His Home in Republic—Miscellaneous News of General Interest.

Tiffin, O., Feb. 25.—(Special)—Rev. John I. Swander, D. D., pastor of the Fremont Reform church, has decided to accept the chair of theology in Heidelberg theological seminary, in this city, to which he was called by the Reformed church synod which met in Bellevue last October.

The Seneca county Agricultural society, after an existence of nearly two score years, has decided to disband and will do so as soon as the county commissioners will allow the directors to mortgage the fair grounds to cancel the indebtedness.

A new fair company has been organized and will hold an exhibition next September.

The fair grounds, which are located in the corporate limits of this city, have become very valuable, being entirely surrounded by dwellings, and will sell to an advantage at this time.

Hon. E. T. Stickney, one of Seneca county's best known democrats, has received a stroke of paralysis and is dying at his home east of Republic. He is past 80 years old. Mr. Stickney has served in the state senate and was one of the commissioners that had charge of the erection of the state capitol in Columbus.

One year ago last December, Milton Harrington, while suffering with delirium tremens, jumped from a Third story window of the Commercial house in this city, in a nude condition and was instantly killed.

His brother, Dr. S. C. Harrington, a physician residing at Rawson, Hancock county, took charge of the body and promised to settle an unpaid hotel bill which the unfortunate man had bequeathed to posterity. This the doctor failed to do and the landlord, E. L. Hawkins, avers that when asked to pay it Dr. Harrington made threats against him and charged that his brother had been drugged and robbed and thrown from the window.

Now Hawkins charges Dr Harrington with attempted blackmail and has issued a warrant for his arrest before Justice McFarland.

The Harringtons formerly resided in the eastern portion of this city and are well known here. The case bids fair to prove of more than ordinary interest.

Mrs. Eliza Overmeyer, aged 85 years, was buried at Green Spring to-day. She was an early settler and for many years a resident of this city.

A CONFLICT IN LAW.

Copyright in Canada is Refused.

Mr. Blaine and Justice Thompson Have Opposite Ways of Thinking on Important Matters.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 25.—Secretary of State for the Colonies, Lord Knutsford, has transmitted to the governor general a dispatch received by Lord Salisbury from Secretary Blaine, protesting in the strongest terms possible in diplomatic intercourse against the refusal of the Canadian government to grant copyright to American citizens.

Mr. Blaine recited the provisions of the Simonds act of 1891, that the privilege of copyright in the United States shall only apply to such foreign states as grant similar privileges to American citizens.

Great Britain, through Lord Salisbury, agreed to this, and declared the law in force in all British possessions.

Mr. Blaine points out that application by Americans for Canadian copyright has been refused by advice of the Canadian minister of justice, and informs Lord Salisbury, in effect, that the refusal of the Canadian government, if sustained, will constitute a breach of faith on the part of Great Britain.

Minister of Justice Thompson was interviewed yesterday in regard to the matter, and said he did not consider the arrangement with Great Britain as a treaty, and consequently the statute law of Canada compelled him to refuse copyright in Canada to a citizen of the United States.

BROWN, EAGER & HULL

HEAR ME, I'M KING

Emperor William Losing His Equilibrium.

Sensational Speech in the Brandenburg Diet,

Followed by Riotous Scenes in the Streets.

Thousands Move on the Castle

And Are Only Kept Back After a Sharp Battle—The Spirit of Unrest Spreading in Germany with Alarming Rapidity.

Berlin, Feb. 25.—The emperor yesterday in his speech to the members of the Brandenburg diet who banqueted him, caused a sensation by remarking that: "The people need not care for party squabbling and chattering. I go my way and that is the right way. We are in a state of transition and destined for great things. I'll conduct you into splendid times, and those who will not help me may as well shake the German dust from their feet. I ask you to confide in and help me."

But this was as nothing to the sensation which the unemployed laborers of this city created to-day.

That the spirit of discontent is spreading with alarming force throughout the German empire is a fact nobody in their senses will deny.

Indeed few people really imagine the extent of the bitter feeling growing against the emperor and those who would drive out of Germany of "grind to powder" all those who oppose him.

An instance of the heated though slumbering passions of the masses was exemplified at 1 o'clock to-day, and should serve as a warning to the advisers to Emperor William.

At the hour mentioned a body of three or four thousand unemployed met, by preconcerted arrangement in a public square and passed a series of inflammatory resolutions, denouncing their employers and the system of government which enables the latter to crush the workingmen beneath the iron heel of capital, and calling upon the government to take steps to protect the interests of the working classes.

The news of this bold gathering in defiance of the recent order of the authorities prohibiting such meetings, spread with electrical rapidity throughout the city. The result was that the socialistic agitators determined to take advantage of the excited unemployed men to make a demonstration before the emperor.

The police upon the spot tried to argue with the workmen, but without shaking their determination to carry out the project outlined.

They were warned that such a demonstration would probably result in bloodshed, but, led by the socialist agitators, the workmen formed in column and marched from the square mentioned, in the direction of Unten Den Linden, the most celebrated avenue in Berlin.

Marching on the Castle.

The onward sweep of the workmen was at first irresistible. The police were utterly unable to cope with the roaring, swelling enthusiastic crowd, shouting and cheering, encouraged by thousands of other people who watched their progress through the streets. Was it a revolution? was the question heard on all sides.

On marched the cheering workmen, crying, "To the castle," "to the castle," in a manner recalling somewhat the scene which occurred in Paris, July 14 and 15, 1789, when a mob marched upon the great castle prison of France, shouting "A bas la bastile," "A bas la bastile," and eventually pulled down that historical pile and conducted its governor and other officers to the place de la Greve, where their heads were cut off and carried on pikes through the streets.

In somewhat similar fashion these thousands of dissatisfied German workmen, among whom were a number of women and children mingled, reached Unter den Linden, brushing aside like flies the police who attempted to bar their progress.

Addressing the Thousands.

Arrived upon Unter den Linden, beneath the statue of Frederick the Great, a halt was made and a socialist leader made a passionate address to the throng, urging them to carry their demonstration up to the gates of the castle.

Loud cheers greeted the suggestion and then, at a signal from a prominent socialist who seemed to be chosen leader of the mob the workmen began singing the Marseillaise and marched, cheered by thousands who had gathered on the broad avenue to witness the demonstration, towards the castle.

The workmen, passing through a line of police which barred their passage, rolling several policemen head over heels in so doing, had nearly reached the castle gates, where the guards had been ordered under arms and had loaded their rifles with ball cartridges, when a strong detachment of police suddenly threw themselves across the short portion of the thoroughfare intervening between the rioters and the castle and then, at a sharp word of command, the officers of the law made a determined charge upon the head of the workingmen's column.

Driven Back.

The latter, for a moment or so, nerved by the roaring cheers of thousands, bravely and stubbornly withstood the attack of the police, and, pressed onward by those in the rear, actually managed to gain headway and to beat back the powerful police detachment.

The latter, however, rallied, and hitting furiously right and left, wounded scores upon scores of workmen, who fell bleeding beneath the feet of the officers of the law.

Somebody among the workmen called upon them to retreat and come again some other day a hundred thousand strong, and prepared to meet the "emperor's butchers."

A retreat then commenced, and soon developed into a flight and into a panic.

The police after taking from 80 to 100 prisoners seemed content to allow the remainder to escape, for there was no regular pursuit of the rioters, though small bands of them were chased down the side streets and dispersed.

The sixty to seventy wounded rioters who remained upon the field of battle were then attended to at a neighboring hospital, and the regular prisoners were placed under lock and key.

It was noticed throughout the demonstration of to-day that the sympathy of the immense crowd of people, rich and poor, who witnessed the workingmen's demonstration, was beyond a doubt with the rioters.

They were cheered repeatedly by groups of well dressed people belonging to the upper and middle classes, and were frowned upon only by those moving in government or military circles.

The riot of this afternoon is almost the only thing talked about to-day, and is looked upon as a sort of reply upon the part of the people to the emperor's remarks made to the "Loyal Brandenburgers" yesterday.

The ice, it is admitted, has been broken, and the socialist leaders are said to be preparing for a monster demonstration in the near future.

The Socialist Platform.

During the passage of the workingmen through the streets, dodgers outlining the platform of the German socialist party were freely distributed among the people. This platform is as follows:

1. Universal suffrage without distinction of sex, for all subjects of the empire over 20 years of age; direct elections by the people by secret ballot; the principle of "one man one vote," and biennial parliaments.

2. The direct participation of the people in legislation, with the right to initiate or reject laws, and the annual revision of the scale of taxation.

3. A wide extension of the principles of local government and the election of all public officials by the people, to whom such officials are to be held responsible.

4. The training of the people in arms, so as to form a national defense to take the place of a standing army.

5. The decision of peace or war to rest with the representatives of the people; international disputes to be decided by arbitration.

6. The repeal of all laws prohibiting or restricting free expression of opinion, or the right of association or public meeting.

7. Religion to be a matter of private opinion, and all payments of public money for confessional or religious objects to cease, ecclesiastical or religious communities to be considered private associations, which manage their own affairs.

8. The secularization of the national schools.

9. Free administration of justice.

10. The abolition of capital punishment.

11. Free medical assistance, and free disposal of the dead.

12. A graduated income and property tax.

13. The abolition of direct taxation.

14. The taking over by the state of all workingmen's insurance agencies.

15. An unbroken period of rest of 36 hours in each week for every workingman.

BURN HIM AT THE STAKE.

Missouri Blood is at the Boiling Point,

Caused by the Deeds of a Negro Desperado.

Infamous Deeds of a Highwayman Reported From Sedalia, Mo.—He Will be Fearfully Punished if Caught.

Sedalia, Mo., Feb. 25.—"Burn him at the stake. Texarkana treatment is too good for him." That is the punishment which the people of Sedalia demand shall be meted out to a negro outlaw, who startled the town with a series of extraordinary crimes.

Within two hours he committed criminal assault, and two highway robberies and burglaries. For these crimes the people demand he shall be burned at the stake, and, if he s caught while the fever of excitement is still at its height, they will themselves enforce this demand.

About 9 o'clock Tuesday evening a negro, his face concealed behind a white mask, entered the house of Mrs. Mary Moore, a widow aged 65 years, choked her almost into unconsciousness, stole a few valuables and escaped.

A little later he held up P. H. Buckley and Miss Mattie Gilken, whom Buckley was accompanying to her home. When abreast of the couple the negro ordered them to hold up their hands. Miss Gilken fled in one direction while Buckley flew in another.

The negro pursued the woman, threw one arm around her neck and with the butt end of his revolver struck her on the head, felling her to the ground. Buckley recovered himself and ran to his companion's assistance. Other pedestrians appeared at that moment and the negro escaped.

A half hour later the desperado committed the crowning act of his night's villainy. It was 11 o'clock when Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taylor started home from the house of H. G. Clark, the superintendent of the Missouri Pacific railway, where they had been attending an entertainment.

On Broadway, in front of the residence of O. A. Crandall, they were confronted by the negro highwayman with a dirk in one hand and a revolver in the other. "Hold up your hands." Being unarmed, Taylor obeyed, and the thief went through his pockets.

Mrs. Taylor, while her husband was being searched, slipped a gold ring from her hand and threw it over Mr. Crandall's fence into the yard and hid a diamond breastpin in the waist of her dress. She had no sooner accomplished the concealment of the ring when James Hartshorn, a boy, passed along the street and the footpad stepped aside to allow the pedestrian to pass.

Hartshorn took in the situation at a glance. He turned down the next street and hastening down town gave the alarm. The highwayman turned his attention to Mrs. Taylor and took a pair of diamond ear-rings from her ears. While the robber was searching Mrs. Taylor her husband closely scanned him so that his identification will be an easy matter.

He then with drawn revolver marched the pair to a lonely spot. There he bound Mr. Taylor hand and foot. After a desperate struggle he criminally assaulted Mrs. Taylor. Then he brought Mrs. Taylor back to her husband and having released him commanded the couple to go to their home. They immediately complied.

The police were unable to find any trace of the desperado.

A mass meeting was held at the opera house and $1,500 was subscribed as a reward for the capture of the negro. The whole country around about is aroused as it has not been in years.

ALL CHICAGO IS HAPPY.

Pleased with the Message on the Fair.

Directors Think It Will Certainly Pave the Way for Much Congressional Aid.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—President Harrison's special message to congress on the subject of the world's fair made all the officials feel good yesterday. On both sides of the house it was agreed that Mr. Harrison could not have done better.

"Its a magnificent document," said Director Davis, "and will do much to strengthen the fair with congress. Mr. Harrison has shown that he thoroughly appreciates the national character of the undertaking."

"The message shows that President Harrison recognizes the national importance of the fair," said Secretary Dickinson, "and besides proves that he has a thorough knowledge of the details and methods of administration, which must have resulted from a careful personal investigation of the data before him.

"His recommendations will fully justify congress in taking appropriate action in behalf of the exposition, which will meet the approval of all the states and territories in the union."

Mr. Baker was also satisfied with the message.

ROBBED A PRINT SHOP.

Tiffin, O., Feb. 25.—During the noon hour yesterday burglars gained access to the office of the Plow and Hammer, organ of the People's party. A few postage stamps and some articles of clothing were stolen and type "pied." No clew to the perpetrators.

MUNICIPAL GAS PLANT.

Chicago Starts in to Solve the Problem

Of How to Get Good and Cheap Light.

A Monster Meeting Held in Music Hall Last Night and Action Taken on the Subject.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Had the officers of the various gas companies of the city drifted into Central Music hall last evening they would in all probability have been mobbed. The populace were there, and Biblical history records that an outraged populace is a dangerous thing to trifle with.

It was the mass meeting of citizens that had been called to protest against the exorbitant rates charged by the gas companies and the poor service and quality that people are forced to pay for.

Mr. Washington Hesing presided. He spoke of the previous meeting that had been held at the Sherman house and told of the methods used by the gas people to increase their profits.

He said they had met to take steps toward the promotion of a Municipal Gas league.

Mr. Jessie Cox was the main speaker of the evening.

"There is but one way to down this monopoly that is robbing us in such a bare-faced way month after month, said Mr. Cox. I trust you are all with us in that remedy. We must have a muncipal gas works. Will you do it?"

The crowd responded with a hearty volley of "Yeas" that would leave no doubt of their feelings.

After passing resolutions bearing on a permanent established of a muncipal gas plant, the meeting adjourned sine die.

BISHOP OF CLEVELAND

Consecrated in Philadelphia To-Day.

The New Bishop Will Leave for His Buckeye Charge To-Morrow Afternoon.

Philadelphia, Feb. 25.—With the splendid ceremonies in the ritual of the Roman Catholic church, Right Rev. Ignatius F. Horstmann, chancellor of the archdiocese of Philadelphia, was this morning elevated to the high dignity of bishop of the see of Cleveland.

The impressive ceremony was performed in the spacious cathedral in the presence of three archbishops, five monsignors, hundreds of priests and an immense congregation.

Owing to Dr. Horstmann's great popularity among people of all denominations in this, his native city, there has been an unprecedented demand for tickets to the cathedral, and it was found on Tuesday that tickets for every seat in the great diocesan church had been distributed.

Many appplicants of yesterday and to-day were therefore disappointed in obtaining admission.

The consecrator was Archbishop Elder, of Cincinnati, and Archbishop Corrigan of New York, officiated as celebrant.

Cardinal Gibbons pronounced the pontifical blessing, and the sermon was preached by Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia.

HAD HARD LUCK ALL HIS LIFE.

Steubenville, O., Feb. 25.—Gregory Haney, who died of lockjaw at Wheeling Junction, was perhaps the most ill-starred man in the employ of the Pan Handle railroad.

Since he began work as one of the gravel train workmen, about twenty-five years ago, whenever an accident occurred he was sure to come out disfigured. He has been laid off twenty times because of broken limbs or other bruises. He felt sure he would be killed or die of accident in time. He died of lockjaw, brought on by a fracture of one leg, after intense suffering.

HORRIBLE DEATH.

Columbus, O., Feb. 25.—L. S. Ridgley, a patient in the insane asylum, took a horrible method to commit sucide. He threw himself in front of a Little Miami express train as it was passing the asylum grounds and was instantly killed.

His remains were mutilated beyond recognition. His home is at Marion, where he has a wife and two sons. Ridgely was supposed to have recovered sufficiently to allow him to walk about the grounds unattended.

CHARGED WITH FORGERY.

Salem, O., Feb. 25.—E. E. McCartney was arrested yesterday by Officer Bosten on a charge of forgery committed in Fulton county over a year ago.

McCartney formerly lived in this city, and has friends here whom he has been visiting the past three weeks.

HAVE THEY MADE A DEAL?

Scheme to Boom McKinley in Minneapolis.

Reported That the Governor Has Formed a Combination with the Ohio Foraker People.

Columbus, O., Feb. 25.—W. S. Cappellar last evening authorized the statement that the Foraker republicans, whose leaders have been in conference here for several days, have decided to do all in their power to send a delegation for McKinley to Minneapolis. He would not answer the question of whether this was done with the governor's knowledge and permission or not, but it is well known that since Mr. Blaine's withdrawal Gov. McKinley has been dealing out patronage to the Foraker republicans very liberally.

L. S. Baumgardner is in Fremont today investigating a proposition for the removal of the Toledo Cot and Wringer factory to that place, instead of rebuilding here. Fremont parties have offered Mr. Baumgardner great inducements and the change is being looked upon with favor. There is a plat which was formerly used as a Fremont furniture factory which would make a desirable place for the cot factory.

Speaks of London at St. Paul's M. E. Church.

A fair-sized audience gathered at St. Paul's M. E. church last evening to listen to Major H. C. Dane, of Boston, in his lecture on London the Marvelous. His remarks were very interesting. The city, he said, was a world in itself, standing unique and incomparable among the cities of the world. He gave a description of the city, its people, customs, etc. It contained, said the Major, more Scotch than Edinburgh, more Irish than Belfast, more Catholics than Rome, and more Jews than Palestine.

A Portion of the Collins Property Bought by H. H. Cushing.

Another big real estate deal, involving Toledo property, has been consummated. Today the papers conveying 20 acres of land from Agnes E. Collins to Henry H. Cushing, were properly signed, the consideration being $18,000.

This property may be found on Central avenue, south of the Lake Shore railroad, near Detroit avenue. It is a part of the Collins tract.

Mr. Cushing has considerable faith in the value of property in this vicinity, and has invested in several other tracts which he has platted and placed on the market.

RECEIVED THEIR FRIENDS.

Mr. and Mrs. James Donelly Given a Cheery Send Off.

The marriage of Dr. James Donelly and Miss Rose Quinn was announced in yesterday's Bee. Last evening from 7 to 10 o'clock the happy couple received their numerous friends at the Quinn residence on Ontario street. The pleasant parlors were handsomely decorated with flowers in profusion. An orchestra of eight furnished delightful music, and it was a charming reception throughout. The bride and groom were showered with beautiful presents and deluged with congratulations, and hearty well wishes for their future happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Donelly left last night for the West Indies on their wedding tour.

Shut the door against disease. Danger comes oftenest through impure blood. Keep your blood in order, and you keep in health. For this, nothing equals Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It invigorates the liver, purifies and enriches the blood, and rouses every organ into healthy action. By this means it cures. Every part of the system feels its saving influence. Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, Scrofulous, Skin and Scalp Diseases—even Consumption (or Lung-scrofula) in its earlier stages, all yield to it. It's the only Liver, Blood and Lung Remedy that's guaranteed to benefit or cure, or the money is refunded. Trying terms to sell on—but it's a medicine that can carry them out.

Can anything else, at any price, be really as cheap?

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol to inebriate, and no syrup or sugar to derange digestion.

It's a concentrated vegetable extract; put up in large bottles; pleasant to the taste, and equally good for adults or children.

DRESS REHEARSAL

Of School at Wheeler's To-night—The Performance To-morrow Evening.

This evening the final dress rehearsal of the comedy School will be held at Wheeler's.

School, with the well-known cast engaged, should in itself draw a packed house to the opera house to-morrow night. But as the proceeds go to that worthy charity, the Day Nursery, the Toledo people should fill the house to overflowing. Nothing has been given by Toledo talent of such high order heretofore as the comedy of School, and those who attend the performance may expect to see a faithful representation of one of the prettiest old English comedies ever written.

THE NATURAL GAS FIELD.

Investigators Fail to Materialize for the Trip To-Day.

Mayor Emmick, Manager Heston and two reporters were on deck this morning when the T., C. & C. train pulled out for the gas fields, but the balance of the committee did not show up, and the proposed trip was consequently postponed until tomorrow.

It was raining, but his honor is anxious to have the investigation over, and so he has announced that, rain or shine, the committee will go to the field to-morrow.

"We need not expect to have very good weather in the field from this on," said Manager Heston.

'How is the pressure here this morning, Mr. Heston?" a Bee asked him.

"Sixty-two pounds at the East Side regulator."

Sixty-two! Whew! What's the matter with Toledo's gas?

THE CHRISTIAN ALLIANCE.

Closing Sessions of the Body at Memorial Hall.

An interesting session of the Christian Alliance was held at Memorial hall last evening. The program was opened by young people's service, conducted by Miss Belle Harrington. The address was made by Rev. D. W. Miland.

After the audience had been dismissed, Rev. Lyman H. Johnson raised his voice and proclaimed that the Christ that had been worshiped during the evening was not the Christ of the Bible. It was a startling and unexpected statement, and not a few manifested impatience at the unpleasant remarks of an apparent stranger. He did not interrupt the service, however, and those interested were content to go home and look over the man's actions.

This morning's session was conducted by Rev. D. W. Miland and Rev. A. H. Husey, who took for the subject of their addresses, "Divine Healing."

The session closed with the anointing services.

This afternoon Rev. O. M. Brown delivered an address on "The Lord Coming."

This evening's session, which closes the meeting in Toledo, will be devoted to a general discussion of "Foreign Missions," which will be participated in by all.

WASTE OF GAS.

The Lima Meeting to Consider Measures to Prevent It.

The Lima Gazette gives an account of the meeting held at that city this week, having for its object the consideration of steps to prevent the wanton waste of gas so prevalent at gas points. Representatives were present from Toledo, Dayton, Springfield, Piqua, Troy, Sidney, Van Wert, Upper Sandusky, Greenville, Wapakoneta, St. Mary's, Celina and Lima.

After an informal exchange of views, the following resolution was offered and adopted unanimously:

Resolved, That there is an unnecessary, useless, negligent and wicked waste of gas throughout the Ohio oil and gas fields, and that it is the sense of this meeting that action should be taken to prevent it by legislative enactment.

A question was presented for discussion as follows: "Is it practicable to pump oil under pressure; and by so doing would any injustice be done to the oil industry?" After discussing the question pro and con, a resolution was carried to the effect that it is practicable to pump oil wells under pressure.

Remarks were made by the representatives regarding the great waste now going on through the use of flambeau lights. This was considered unwarranted, and a resolution prevailed to try and abolish the use of them.

The law now in force regarding the shutting in of gas, giving three months after wells were completed, was discussed. It was the unanimous opinion that the present laws were insufficient to prevent the great waste, and a resolution was adopted to attempt their modification.

The gas company of each town represented was directed to circulate petitions in their respective towns, petitioning the legislature to enact such laws as would prevent the waste of gas.

A committee of three was appointed to attend to the necessary legislation and prepare a bill to be presented to the legislature for its enactment.

A consulting committee consisting of a citizen from each town to confer with the executive committee, was appointed.

Motion was carried that committee on legislation, furnish to consulting committee a printed copy of bill prepared.

It was decided to circulate petitions, and have them returned to executive committee by March 11.

THE SAME OLD RUMOR.

The visitor entered, not in a bashful or hesitating manner, but with the air and gait of one who had come many times before. It stepped jauntily through the doorway, took the best chair in the office, cocked its feet up on a desk, stroked its chin once or twice, and winked with its left eye at Pro Bono Publico and Civitas, who were writing cards in a corner.

The editor glanced at the familiar features of the intruder, and as a frown passed over his face, sharpened his pencil and turned with renewed vigor to his task of rearranging the map of Europe. The reporters never looked around, but either ground away at their manuscript or discussed in subdued tones the latest developments in the murder case. The foreman rushed in and made an abrupt demand for copy. The telegraph instruments in the next room clicked monotonously on. The exchange editor steadily plied his scissors. The cockroaches devoted themselves assiduously to the paste pot, or crawled with confidence given by long intimacy, over the clothes of the visitor. Thus the minutes passed and nobody spoke to the figure in the armchair with its head thrown back and its feet on the desk, but took its presence as something to which they had grown accustomed.

Why did they pay so little attention to the visitor? Was it Old Subscriber? or the man with an item? or a spring poet? or a crank? No, it was far different from these, though not less familiar.

The Chilean war rumor had come again. —Courier-Journal.

Freezing does not injure onions or onion sets provided they are not disturbed. If kept in the garret there is less liability of the odor being perceptible in the house, which is not the same with the cellar. Keep them in thin layers and cover them with an old carpet.

SCRAMBLING FOR PLACE.

The One Aim of the Ohio Legis' lature

Seems to be to Create More Positions

For the Men Who Are Now Feeding at the Public Crib—A Law Against Sunday Shaving.

Columbus, Feb. 25.—(Special)—The senate yesterday passed Iden's bill which provides for additional judgeship in the first sub-division of the Eighth judicial district and making Belmont county, Nichols county comprise the second sub-division and attaching Monroe county to the third sub-division of the Seventh district.

By ripping this way Nichols carved out a district for himself and Heinlein and placed Monroe county in a strong republican district.

This morning the bill was reconsidered and referred to the senate judiciary committee.

Several republican senators say if Nichols and Heinlein want judgeships they must look out for Belmont county themselves without crippling anybody else.

Grain Gambling.

Senator Gear is after the grain speculators of the country. He introduced a bill to-day relating to information to be furnished assessors by farmers.

He strikes out that provision requiring them to furnish for statistical purposes the number of acres of grain sown and the number of bushels produced.

The farmers of the state requested its introduction for the reason that grain speculators can figure on the approximate production in advance and manipulate the market accordingly.

The bill also requires manufacturers to give information to assessors as to the number of articles manufactured.

Appointment.

Gov. McKinley to-day appointed Israel Williams, of Butler, and W. J. Gilmore, of Franklin, as trustees of the Ohio Archaeological and Historical society.

Mr. Dickson testified that he had marked three bills of the denomination mentioned, and one of them came back to the bank, but be did not know who brought the same to his counter.

It provides that after September of next year that it shall be unlawful to heat passenger cars, on other than mixed trains, by any stove or furnace, except in case of an accident or emergency, by any railroad excepting those that are less than forty miles in length, and on these roads stoves used must receive the approval of the railroad commissioner.

For violation of this law a penalty of $1,000 is assessed, with further penalty of $100 for every day of failure to comply with its provisions.

The Attorney Fee Bill.

Senator Von Seggern's bill, defeated in the house last week, reconsidered and recommitted, was this morning passed. Originally the bill gave the plaintiff in a suit for wages before a justice of the peace $5 for attorney's fees if judgment plaintiff for attorney fees.

As it passed it provides that it shall not be in excess of that amount, except it has been carried to a higher court, when the judge may allow not to exceed $15 to was rendered for amount claimed.

Notes.

The senate yesterday afternoon adopted the senate joint resolution by Mr. Hildebrand providing for adjournment March 28 at noon.

Senator Rawlings introduced a bill in the senate yesterday afternoon providing that citizens removing from one ward or township to another ward or township shall not forfeit their right to vote at municipal elections.

The senate has passed the bill introduced by Senator Phillips authorizing boards of education to rent or lease school houses for select or normal school purposes, when it does not interfere with th regular school.

The interest on the bonds shall not exceed 6 per cent. annum, payable semi-annually, with the principal payable within twenty years, and to meet this obligation a tax is to be levied upon all taxable property, both real and personal, of Paulding.

The house spent nearly the entire afternoon yesterday in discussing Mr. Doty's bill to secure a voice in school affairs to the women of Ohio on equal terms with men. When the vote was announced, yeas 47, nays 43, the fellows who tried to capture all the smiles from the women present by their advocacy of the bill, felt considerably crestfallen.

The senate this morning passed a bill which provides that whoever disturbs, by obscene language or disorderly conduct, any passenger on steam or street railways, shall be fined not more than $25 or imprisoned not more than ten days or both.

Mr. Boesel's bill authorizing the issue of $15,000 in bonds for electric lighting, passed the senate.

ENGLAND'S CROP OF LIARS.

The Rev. Thomas Dixon, Jr., Finds It Unusually Prolific This Year.

In commenting upon British criticism of the stand taken by the United States government in the Chilean affair the Rev. Thomas Dixon, Jr., said to the New York Recorder: "The chief characteristics of these criticisms have been falsehood, malignity and stupidity. We have asked in amazement how England could produce such a prolific crop of fools in one season. There is only one explanation possible. It is that the dominant classes of England, who are largely in the public eye at this time, are beginning to feel a resistless reflex influence of democratic ideas from America that threatens to destroy some traditional absurdities of the English system.

"Men of this stripe are so blinded by their fears and hatred of American ideas that they fall into hysterical lying about everything in America. One of these recent critics signs the name of Edward Wakefield to a mass of stupidity in The Contemporary Review, which bears the lurid title, 'The Brand of Cain in the Great Republic.' He declares that the America takes to blood as a duck to water; and that any man holds himself in readiness to shoot another from whom he thinks himself in danger of a blow, or with whom he has even had high words. A better title to this article would have been, 'A Brand New Idiot from the British Museum.'

"In The Fortnightly Review for January one William Roberts gravely informs the world that mob law in America dominates even without a mild remonstrance. The animus of this fellow's stupid malignity is easily seen in the following sentence 'To my English readers I would say, pause a little, and make sure that these American institutions you now so ardently admire are really worthy of your admiration. Believe me, it is not a bad thing to live in a country where the law is administered without fear or favor, where judges are men of honor and without reproach, and their decisions upright. Where as in America it is popularly said, and largely believed, that every judge has his price.' Could stupidity and malignity reach absurder heights? Whatever may be said of the police magistracy, before whom passes the slum population of the cities, I have yet to see the citizen of this republic who does not believe in the honor and integrity of the men who administer the real judicial functions of the state."

REV ANNA SHAW TALKS.

There were many bright things said at the convention of women who met in Kansas City last week to reform mankind. Speaking of man's custom of claiming everything, Miss Shaw said: "Why, there is Old Abe, the bald eagle—the men named him Abe—they say 'he' screams and 'he' stretches his wings, 'he' does this and 'he' does that. He was carried through the war and then taken to the Centennial. He was pointed out to the youth of the land as the emblem of liberty. The truth is, after Old Abe was taken to Madison, Wis., he got tired of doing nothing and went to laying eggs. Why, even the statue of liberty," continued Miss Shaw, "represents a woman. But her back is turned to this country, I notice, and she points to the Isle of Man, where men and women have equal rights."

Natural White Oil.

The Philadelphia Record compiles the following notes of information:

The hotbed and the cold frame should be made objects of special attention at this season. The plants require warmth air must also be permitted. Giving them fresh air at the proper time, and without injury, is something that requires good judgment and close attention. To raise the sash too early in the morning, or close it too late in the afternoon, may check the plants. The outside temperature, the temperature of the hotbed itself, when closed, and the degree of growth of the plants, are all to be considered.

Bovi, Bovi.

Carrots, beets and parsnips should go in the ground early, but not when the soil is too cold, as such seeds are slow in germinating, and the young plants may be crowded out by the early weeds. Make the seed beds as fine as an ashheap, and sow radish seeds in the row with the root crops, as the radish seeds germinate quickly, come through and define the rows, thus permitting the use of the hoe until the seeds of the root crops appear, when the young radishes may be removed..

Bovi, Bovi.

It is a laborious task to apply liquid manure to a strawberry patch, but it will be an advantage, especially in a garden patch, to select one row of the plants for forcing. This is done by applying liquid manure, two or three times each week, around the plants. Such plants should be grown in stools rather than in matted rows. Liquid manure can be made by using the urine from the stalls, adding fresh horse manure and diluting with water, if necessary.

A UNIQUE TUM-TUMMER.

The finest guitar in Portland belongs to a lady who 30 years ago took lessons of Anguerra, of Boston, who was one of the best guitarists in the world. Under his supervision this guitar was made for her after an old Spanish model. There are very few like it in this country. The box part is curved. It was made of rosewood that had been seasoned for 100 years. It is consequently now 130 years since the tree was cut.—Bangor (Me.) Commercial.

THE ANSWER READY

In the City Natural Gas Bond Injunction Suit.

Synopsis of the Points Made by the Defendant in the Premises—Prayer for Dismissal.

The answer of the defendant in the refunding gas bond injunction case pending in common pleas court has been prepared and will be filed in a short time.

The following is a summary statement of the contents:

It is denied that the contracts were entered into without there being any notice of any kind for proposals, and that no notice was published in any newspaper to this effect.

Further that all the indebtedness incurred by the trustees was incurred and contracted for the construction of a general natural gas plant throughout the streets and alleys of the city, and that all of the indebtedness was created by the board of trustees for the purpose of laying and extending pipe lines, with the necessary fittings for the purpose of distributing natural gas for heating and illuminating purposes within the corporate limits of the city.

That since the construction of the natural gas plant and since the indebtedness was incurred, the income received by the trustees in the sale of gas has not been sufficient to pay that part of the indebtedness which has already matured, and that the income from the sale of gas will not be sufficient to pay and discharge the indebtedness as it will mature in the future under the contracts created by the trustees.

That all of the plaintiffs are residents of Toledo and have been residents ever since the commencement of the construction of the natural gas plant. They all knew of the resolution of the trustees to enter into contracts for the laying of pipes in the streets and alleys of Toledo, to pay the contractors for performing the work, and furnishing material; to enter into a contract with the iron tubing companies for gas pipe, and all of the trustees' doings with regard to the incurring of the indebtedness. And knowing this stood by and made no complaint of any kind or took no steps to prevent the trustees from incurring the indebtedness.

That the plaintiffs have no power to prevent the raising of funds to liquidate the indebtedness.

That under the limitation of taxation as prescribed by law, the city is unable to pay the indebtedness at its maturity by taxation, and that no provision has been made by levy or otherwise to pay the indebtedness. That no levy can now be made to meet the same or any part thereof until long after $120,000 of the indebtedness has become due.

The defendant says that if the city is prevented by order of the court from issuing and selling the bonds the credit of the city will be greatly impaired, and it will be unable to carry on the municipal government without great inconvenience and loss, wherefore it is prayed that the plaintiffs' petition be dismissed.

The case will be defended by Attorneys Read, Tracy and Tolerton.

LEGAL FIGHT ON

Before Judge Lemmon in the Common Pleas Court,

All on Account of the Toledo Sienna and Mineral Paint Company—Some Technical Points to be Decided.

A three-cornered legal fight is on in Judge Lemmon's room of the common pleas court to-day.

The title of the case is M. T. Bernart et al. against the Toledo Sienna and Mineral Paint company. The fight involves the possession of the proceeds of the sale of the plant, amounting to about $1,200. The factions are the general creditors, the attaching creditors, eight in number, and the mortgagees, who are Metzger Bros. & Co. The general creditors are represented by Johnson Thurston, the attaching creditors by I. N. Huntsberger, the mortgages by Hudson, Twing & Foster.

The general creditors have an aggregate claim of $5,000, and they demand an equal distribution of the $1,200 in the fund, holding that the mortgage and attachment are not valid claims.

The mortgagees, in pushing their claim of $625, determined that it is a preceding claim, and should be paid in full out of the fund, and that the attachment is invalid. The attaching creditors have a claim amounting to $1,200, which they insist should be paid in full; also that the mortgage is not valid.

The case is on hearing to the court, and involves some highly interesting legal points.

LOCAL RAILROADS.

Several Matters of Interest Dished Up

For the Perusal of the Passenger and Freight Men Here and Hereabouts.

It is a pleasure to note something new in the way of railroad time tables that the public can decipher without disturbing its mental equilibrium. Generally the man who gets up time tables knows all about them, but in him alone the knowledge they would diffuse eternally rests. The Burlington Route has supplied something new. It combines a map and time table, and a patent has been applied for.

The first important change is the omission of a. m. and p. m. by substituting along the sides, in brackets, at the proper places, "morning," "afternoon," "evening" and "night." The most important feature, however, is placing the name of the station in the time table on a line with the station on the map, and on one side will be found the distance from Chicago and the total population. The arrangement is certainly an improvement on the old system.

The European time table is even worse than its American cousin. Generally the stations are arranged alphabetically, and the time of departure of trains is thrown in promiscuously. Even the conductor can't tell a passenger anything about the matter. More space is given to the fares. Where there is one inch of time table there are ten pages giving the fare from every town to every other town, first, second and third class. In the matter of time tables America is in the lead, but it is a slow race.

On the C., H. & D.

All of the employes of the C., H. & D. company have received a circular instructing them in the use of the standard code of train rules, as adopted by the American Railway association, which will hereafter be used by the C., H. & D. The new rules will be adopted in sections so that each person interested can gradually become accustomed to and familiar with the various rules, before the book is adopted as a whole. Circular No. 190 has been printed and distributed among the trainmen, giving an exact wording of the rules of the standard code governing that portion of the code which pertains to the protection of trains, giving numbers and rules as they will eventually stand in the code when adopted as a whole. From time to time various portions of the standard code will be given in this manner. The rules of the standard code will be effective in March.

Lynch, J. W. Holloway, John H. Sample, D. E. Hill, K. B. Conger, Louis Miller and C. W. Risley.

THE TWO-CENT BILL

Discussed by Toledo Passenger Agents.

Return of Messrs. Hall and Jenkins From Columbus, Where They Met the Senate Committee on Railroads.

General Passenger Agent C. C. Jenkins of the Clover Leaf and J. M. Hall of the Wheeling & Lake Erie, have returned from Columbus, where they met the senate committee on railroads for the purpose of throwing some light on the two-cent railroad bill. Mr. Jenkins made a stirring speech that somewhat enlightened the committee and will have a tendency to put a quietus on the two-cent a mile movement. To a Bee this morning Mr. Jenkins said:

"The people don't want a two-cent rate, but they do want increased train service, increased speed, increased facilities and comforts of every kind. Will a reduced fare do these things? Never. They would put the railroads between two grind stones. If our revenue is reduced the reduction must result in lowering the wages of our employes. If that were resorted to, labor unions would set up a howl. The only thing we could do would be to discharge help bodily, take off trains and reduce expenses. We make reduced rates enough now. People are not breaking their hearts for lower ones. If the public will trust the railroads they will make these reductions where they will do the most good. Ohio is the great funnel through which the great mass of travel from east to west and reverse passes. Make a two-cent rate in this state and what have you done? You have upset the whole arrangement. Railroads would never know how to cope with the complications that would arise. If there is to be a two-cent rate in Ohio, the same should be made to apply all over the country at the same time."

General Passenger Agent Hall, of the Wheeling, said: "The people who need it most are getting a two-cent rate and less. People who live in the suburbs to cut down their expenses and come to the city daily, students and other commuters get a rate of one cent a mile. The commercial men get a rate of two cents a mile. All associations' meetings, etc., get reduced rates. The person who travels once a year pays three cents, and pays it willingly. It is no hardship. People who travel enough to warrant a reduced rate get it. If a two-cent bill is passed it will be the means of taking away the life that sustains good service. It will reduce the number of employes, it will reduce the wages, it will reduce the number of trains. The railroad laborer would lose by it, the commercial man whose time is money, would lose by it, the public would soon grumble and we would take a step backwards instead of forward. Nothing is too good for the traveling public to-day. Look at the condition of travel 20 years ago. Look at the vast improvements that have been made in the last few years, and then ask for a reduction in the fare in the face of all the additional expense to railroads and the further expenditures they are willing to make for the betterment of railway travel."

General Passenger Agent Moulton Houk, of the Ohio Central lines said: "Competition has furnished the best service that railroad companies can furnish at the present rates. Cut the rates and you cut the service. At 2 cents a mile the present excellent service cannot be sustained. Roads can handle the business at 2 cents, but they will do it with half the number of trains and less help. Who will be inconvenienced? The public. If the committee on railroads would examine the annual reports of the Ohio lines and find out what the average revenue from each passenger per mile was and what the cost of carrying that passenger a mile amounted to, they would soon find out the reason why a 2 cent rate would not possibly work."

Mrs. Montague to be Tried for Manslaughter.

A Crowded Court Room Listened to the Testimony in the Sensational Belfast Case.

Belfast, Feb. 25.—The examination of Mrs. Montague, charged with causing the death of her child by cruel treatment, was resumed to-day.

The crowd was so great and feeling so strong that an extra force of police were summoned from Coleraine to preserve order and prevent undesirable persons from entering the court room.

The governess repeated her testimony at the inquest, how the child had committed some trifling misbehavior, for which she had been placed in a dark cell and how Mrs. Montague had tied her up and abused her until she died.

The result of the hearing was that the charge of manslaughter was sustained. Evidence on the other charges was ordered to be continued.

The Internal Revenue Receipts.

The receipts from internal revenue during the first seven months of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1892, were $88,700,-094, being $1,699,110 greater than the receipts during the corresponding period of the previous year. The receipts were as follows: Spirits, $52,522,250, an increase of $3,568,893; tobacco, $18,004,396, a decrease of $2,821,029; fermented liquors, $17,294,225, an increase of $731,533; oleomargerine, $776,333, an increase of $254,-068; miscellaneous, $102,888, a decrease of $34,355. The receipts for January, 1892, were $217,262 greater than those for January, 1891.

The Minneapolis "Market Record."

While it is claimed that there will be little sold in the winter wheat sections, it is believed more will come out in the northwest for a few weeks, preceding the final break up of the spring.

That is claimed for the southern parts of the northwest as well as for the northern. The elevator companies have sold more than usual to arrive in the last week and that wheat will be arriving, in addition to fresh country purchases that will likely come in as fast as cars to load them can be procured, for there is small premium now for carrying to May. The movement to Minneapolis and Duluth exceeds 78,000,000 bu. from the last crops, against a little more than 46,000,000 bu. up to this time last year.

Our receipts of wheat to-day are again nearly as large as yesterday and are larger in every sense, for the time of year. Minneapolis and Duluth contribute 402,114 bu, and the other five western points 202,060 bu.

The export clearances yesterday from four Atlantic ports were wheat 234,275 bu and flour to an aggregate of 480,000 bu. The exports of corn were 299,745 bu and of oats 19,500 bu.

English markets as reported herein open firmer with a slight advance on wheat and a steady market for corn.

Winter Killed Wheat.

We want to repeat for the benefit of farmers in Michigan and northern Ohio, that a winter killed wheat field may be replaced with No. 1 hard Minnesota or Dakota wheat, sown early in March, and will produce a fine crop. The seed should be original, and not of the production of any former crop raised around this lake where the experiment has been repeatedly successful. Undoubtedly the production of this wheat here would soon fail, but first experiments have proved well.

Beerbohm is quoted as asserting that in 11 weeks the shipments of wheat to Europe have been 17,600,000 bu less than the estimated requirements. We have not found the item in his paper, but have likely overlooked it. It is out of line with previous statements by other authorities, but it may be accurate for all that.

The Markets To-Day.

The wheat markets in this country opened this a. m. at about yesterday's closing prices, and remained quite steady until one o'clock when a weaker feeling prevailed and prices fell off about 1-2c.

Corn has been a little higher east and west, but in sympathy with wheat closed a shade lower.

In New York February and May wheat closed 1-2c lower. February corn unchanged. May 1-4c lower. February oats 1-4c higher.

In Chicago February wheat closed 1-2c and May 5-8c lower. February corn 1-4c lower and May unchanged. May oats 1-8c lower.

Paris, London, Liverpool and Berlin all close firm.

In Toledo.—The wheat market has been a spiritless and uninteresting one. There was no lack of business, but the aggregate sales foot up light. At opening, price represented yesterday's close and were steady until about 1 o'clock when the market lost its firmness and closed 1-2c lower. May wheat opened at 98c, sold up to 98 1-2c, and closed at 97 5-8c; July sold at 93 1-4c and closed at 92 3-4c, a loss of 1-2c.

Cash wheat remained firm and in demand, but all sales are light. No. 2 soft sold at 97 to 96 3-4c and to 97 and at close about 96 1-2c was the market, a loss of 1-2c; No. 3 soft about 94c; No. 4 soft at 86 1-2c; No. 1 rejected at 88c; No. 2 at 85 1-2c.

Corn—No. 2 at 40 1-2c. No. 3 at 40c. No. 2 yellow at 41c. No. 3 yellow at 40 1-2c. Nothing done in oats and rye.

Clover seed was steady and without special new features. Prices are unchanged. Prime for cash at $5 85. February, $5 85. March at $5 80. No. 2 at $5 60 to $5 65.

The market was dull and displayed considerable strength at times. The dealings were unusually barren of feature. The first prices were generally a fraction better than those of last night and a firmer feeling marked the dealings. The strong stocks were whisky trust and Lackawana. The former advanced 1 3-4 and the latter 1 per cent. Chicago gas was hammered to a considerable extent, but only yielded 3-4 and recovered a portion of that decline almost immediately. The other stocks presented no feature. In the second hour some weakness was developed, but while New England was one of the stocks subjected to a vigorous selling, it only fell 3-4. Towards 11:30, however, there was another rally. Baltimore & Ohio was especially strong and advanced 1 3-8 to 97 3-8. Iowa Central advanced 3 per cent. to 54. The market at noon was strong with prices slightly higher all around than last evening. At this writing the market is dull and not so steady. Sales to noon 142,000 shares.

Nickels to cabbage Fogarty will not be the next police clerk of Toledo.

The Philadelphia fund for Russia nears the $100,000 mark. And New York calls Philadelphia slow.

If T. P. Brown could do as well with the gas business as he did with railroads the office of gas trustee would fit him remarkably well.

Parties come and parties go, but the democratic party remains to advance, strengthen and bless a republic which can not decline when thus supported.

The other conventions will be sideshows; the Chicago exhibition alone will be the convention of the year, every seat taken, band in tune and the sure winner to be named.

The Toronto Empire could flop into Yankee politics without much training. It asks of the opposition: "Honest, now, isn't this attempt to ride into power on the back of the old Canadian hen a positive, comparative and superlative failure?"

Brother Griffin is the leader of the legislature. Even the republican senators, Sherman as well as Foraker men, do his bidding. He will come home with flags flying and go to congress from the district which he will make this winter.

It begins to look as if the New York Herald was right when it said six months ago the democrats must find their presidential candidate outside of New York. New York democrats are themselves making the Herald's statement right.

Some eastern newspapers are having a time because the writers in the magazines who describe the progress of the world's fair always close with a boom for the city of Chicago. The metropolis of the west planks down the big money for advertising, and is getting value received.

Tom Platt is worrying about the prospective gerrymander of the state of New York. Poor Platt, how his virtuous soul must be moved. If Hill's democrats can make a meaner job of it than Platt's republicans have, they will command the admiration of the world for their skill.

The Pan American scheme is not a flag-flying success. The South American republics would rather fight than treat, and Mexico and Canada, our wealthy trading neighbors, complain they can make no sort of a bargain with us. With Blaine's presidential boom laid to rest, there isn't much use for the reciprocity rattle.

The National Civil Service Reform League in its pamphlet report just issued quotes the words of President Harrison for the cause, and reviewing his contradictory acts concludes: "It can never be unjust to the president to judge him by his own standard of duty, by his own conceptions of justice and fair play. The fittest condemnation of his own act is found in his own words."

School suffrage for women received a set-back in the Ohio house yesterday. The Doty bill to authorize such suffrage was defeated by a vote of 47 to 43. The affirmative vote shows a healthy growth of the cause, though the defeat will check the good work which might now be farther advanced if the women had acted upon constitutional lines. The Doty bill, if enacted into law, would be unconstitutional. No argument for the worthy cause can change the legal status of the question. Woman suffrage in any and every form is inhibited by the constitution of Ohio. Those men who have differently advised the good women have deceived them, and now the matter must be begun over. The reform can only be reached by a constitutional amendment, and an amendment cannot be submitted to the electors of Ohio until November, 1893.

THE NEW DECLARATION.

The declaration of union and independence put forth by the new party in St. Louis is sweeping in its condemnation of the world in general and the United States in particular. They are clean disgusted with the whole business and, according to showing, another deluge and Noah's ark would be a good thing. "The people are demoralized, newspapers are subsidized, and a vast conspiracy against mankind has taken possession of the world." They do not purpose to be fooled by "the uproar of a sham battle over the tariff," they "seek to restore the government to the plain people." All of which is stirring, high-sounding and may go thundering down the ages after that other immortal declaration. Granted that all charged is true, the urban population which, it is said, "is denied the right of organization for self-protection," have voted steadily for twenty-five years to place themselves in their present bounden condition. It should be said "we" in the vehement condemnation, not "they." The urban voter has been the reliance of the republican party, the legislation of which, for a quarter of a century, has made the farmer, and the laborer in other lines, the burden bearers of the country. Now, through this continual aid, they have intrenched themselves behind the moneyed powers of the government that their favors have created (by virtue of the votes of the rural population) so strongly they can dominate the country in spite of their long-time aids. They now turn on them and call them "the debris of political parties, assembled in St. Louis."

The urban voters have gotten just what they bargained for, and have themselves to thank for it. They were blind and deaf till the roofs were fairly raised over their heads, now they fall to cursing the whole world for the result of their own folly.

The wind-up of the declaration is like an echo from its famous predecessor:

In order to restrain the extortions of aggregated capital, to drive the money changers out of the temple; to form a perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty for ourselves, and our posterity, we do ordain and establish the following.

This is most praiseworthy and the fervent amens will not be confined to any sectarian corner. But these Goliahs who are going to cuff the world into straightness with one whack—they must needs come down from the heights and take the world as they find it, with all manner and conditions of men. What they cannot do by votes in this country, they cannot hope to accomplish by threats, oratory and denunciation. It might be ungracious to remind these world-reformers that their way-down-deep, simon-pure sincerity will be questioned, when it is remembered that the liquor question, the topmost of them all in moral politics, they utterly refused to touch it. The no-pent-up-Utica spirit is most admirable, but when the feet touch common ground again, the movement forward must be step by step, in the old way.

In Augusta, Ga., Sunday, a minister made sneering allusion to a newspaper paragraph and took advantage of his position to pitch into the editor. The editor arose from the midst of the congregation and announced that he would answer the clergyman in his columns the next day and the audience cheered. It is well if pulpit and press can pull together, but the carpeted platform fellow isn't going to get away from the knight of the quill on a single count. Don't you forget that.

This doesn't sound quite right, but the figures and fact cannot be altered: Grover Cleveland received 5,536,242 votes and Benjamin Harrison 5,440,708 votes in the last presidential election, and Benjamin Harrison was duly elected.

United States Consul McCreery in Valparaiso is being investigated for financial crookedness in a matter of money exchange. He would better come home along with Pat Egan.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATS.

The Distribution of Admission Tickets to the Convention.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—After a long and heated discussion the local democratic committee appointed to confer with representatives of the national committee has decided to accept the proposition of the national committee, for the division of tickets of admission to the convention hall. The agreement reached will give the national committee 12,000 seats for distribution and the local committee 3,000.

If the size of the hall to be constructed admits of more than 15,000 seats, the additional seats will be distributed, one-fifth to the local and four-fifths to the national committee.

The arrangement was far from satisfying the local committee's expectations. They are feeling rather sore about their defeat, and charge that the sub-committee sent here to negotiate concerning tickets was arranged in the interests of Governors Hills and Gray.

NEW CORPORATIONS.

DEALINGS IN PUTS AND CALLS.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—The directors of the board of trade have issued an order forbidding members from congregating in the settlement room or in the hall or approaches to the chamber of commerce before the opening and after the close of the board. This order is intended to put a stop to dealings in "puts" and "calls," which have been carried on extensively in violation of the rules of the board, and which have been one of the chief arguments in favor of the passage of the anti-option measure in congress.

LOCAL OPTION DEFEATED.

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 25.—As anticipated, the Schmidt local option bill was defeated in the senate by a vote of 25 ayes, 23 noes. The number necessary to constitutional majority being 26. Every democrat was present and voted aye. Reynolds (rep.) and Engle (people's party) were absent, but both would have voted against the bill and the result would have been the same.

RECEIVER APPOINTED.

Buffalo, Feb. 25.—The Buffalo Steam Forge company has gone into the hands of a receiver. The company was organized in 1890 for the manufacture of Car axels and railroad forgings. The total liabilities are $61,608, and the total assets $24,633. The capital stock is $25,000. William L. Marcy is temporary receiver, with bond of $25,000.

THE CAPTAIN AT FAULT.

Lond, Feb. 25.—A dispatch from Malta says that the court martial which has been inquiring into the standing, recently, off the coast of Greece, of H. M. S. Victoria flagship of the British Mediterranean squadron, has severely reprimanded the admonished captain, the Hon. Maurice A. Bourke.

CLEVELAND DELEGATES.

Providence, R. I., Feb. 25.—Democratic caucuses to elect delegates to the state convention were held here last evening. The system of conducting the meeting worked perfectly. Nineteen delegates favorable to Cleveland national convention delegates were selected, while the Hill faction elected seven.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

President Harrison has an annoying cold.

The hotels in St. Louis refused to receive Sarah Bernhardt recently because of her many pets.

The late Cardinal Manning left no autobiographical notes. His executors will probably write the life of the eminent churchman and edit his letters.

The attempt of Charles E. Roach, grandson and legatee of the great shipbuilder, to intervene in the accounting of the estate has been blocked in New York courts.

Gustave Jovanovitch, the greatest cattle breeder in Russia, and called the "King of the Steppes," owns 600,000 acres of land and possesses more than 1,000,000 sheep and 34,000 shepherd dogs.

Hans Von Bulow has resigned his position in Berlin and will go to live in Hamburg. The precarious health of the famous pianist is the cause of his separation for the philharmonic concerts of Berlin.

Mrs. John A. Logan is suffering from a fall caused by the collapse of a camp stool. She has slightly injured her spine and is now confined to her room, not seriously hurt, but sufficiently so to make her friends very anxious.

Brigadier General Thomas L. Casey, chief of engineers U. S. A., has been relieved from duty with the lighthouse board at his own request, and Col. George S. Elliott, of the engineer corps, has been detailed to that duty in his stead.

Lord Brooke has started for Mexico. His health is impared and his doctors have ordered a change of climate. What his complaint is is not stated, but, probably, he has been reading too much society news to make him feel happy.

MENTIONED ON THE STREETS.

That the open street car will soon be the proper thing.

That business is lightening up at the infirmary department.

That local ball teams are getting themselves together for the season's play.

That the chess contest was a hummer, with Toledo in the swim at all stages.

That the much advertised wheat corner has not yet come to the surface in these parts.

That T. P. Brown can be republican nominee for gas trustee if he so desires, so the boys say.

That now it is said B. L. McElroy, of Mt. Vernon, will be the state oil inspector, if Hahn declines.

That church revivals have been retarded seriously the past month on account of sickness.

That Mose Math thinks he has the deputy oil inspectorship within his grasp, no matter who is made chief.

That vessel property will be good investment the coming season, if expectations for large business are realized.

That Harry Cherry is thinking of taking another twirrel at the republican nomination for police commissioner this spring.

That Representative Griffin is after the secretary of the state board of charities with a little William which will relieve him from the position.

That it would be well to keep a sharp eye for those blank marriage licenses stolen from the court house. Some mischief will turn up with them.

That appointees of the council are setting up a few pins to get the proper parties nominated in the different wards, as several terms expires in the spring.

That the democrats in the council might have safely allowed the republicans to settle the controversy over the gas trusteeship. It was purely a family row of their own.

That with a dozen more judges, half a dozen workshop inspectors, and a grist of minor offices created, the Buckeye state will go bankrupt when it comes to paying up.

That the new redistricting bill keeps Lucas, Fulton and Wood counties together, and the politicians in the latter county will continue to kick at being doubled up with Toledo.

That as the election approaches, the law and order league may be expected to come forth with the regulation code of instructions, and then the members will return to vote the republican ticket.

That at the informal club meeting yesterday, while one ultra-prudent lady deprecated "the publicity these newspaper people are giving the matter," the majority are very much pleased at the interest taken by the press in the movement.

That Reynold Voit is to assist in securing the congressional nomination for Mayor Emmick, should he fail to be appointed oil inspector. This is in return for the mayor's gallant stand for Voit for gas trustee.

Good Time To Be Quiet.

Will Be Only Tin-Plated.

The hospital authorities have taken prompt measures to prevent the spread of the disease in the institution.

THE M'KINLEY LAW INVOLVED.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Judge Blodgett, of the United States circuit court, has set next Tuesday for the time for argument on the motion to dismiss the appeal of Collector Clark from the decision of the board of general appraisers.

This is the motion in which the constitutionality of the McKinley administrative act is involved, and after the decision by the court here the case will be carried to the United States supreme court.

TWO DUDES AT WAR.

New York, Feb. 25.—E. C. Potter, a nephew of Bishop Potter, was horsewhipped on Fifth avenue yesterday by Lindley Chapin. Both the principals are well known young clubmen, and the episode caused great excitement in clubdom.

The trouble, it is said, grew out of a defamatory story regarding Chapin which Potter is alleged to have circulated.

EMPIRE STATE POLITICS.

Anti-Hill Men to Make a Big Fight.

They Will Go to the National Convention

And Demand That Their Voice be Heard—Funds Raised to Run the Syracuse Meeting in Good Shape.

New York, Feb. 25.—It now transpires, according to a statement published this morning, that late Saturday night last, and on into Sunday morning, 26 of the anti-Hill leaders at Albany were in secret conference in the private office of State Senator Chase.

During the conference the question of the amount of money needed was raised. Ex-Secretary of the Treasury Fairchild said that he did not think that a large sum would be required. There would be some expenses for the Syracuse convention, which would be easily met by private subscription on the spot if necessary. There would also be some expenses for printing.

It was announced by Mr. Anderson that subscriptions would be asked for in New York city, but from what he heard and promises that he had received, he was satisfied that every penny needed would be raised in New York within a week. It was estimated that about $25,000 to $30,000 would be a sufficient sum to meet every expense, and that amount was virtually pledged at this conference.

The intention now is to elect at Syracuse on May 31 a delegation of representative democrats who, upon its arrival at Chicago, will first make demand of the national democratic committee for recognition. Whether the delegation will capture the committee or not is a matter of doubt. Mr. Grace thinks it is possible; Mr. Fairchild believes it is certain.

With the backing of the national committee the delegation will be in an excellent position to appeal to the convention for its own recognition. It does not expect to demand that the Hill delegations be thrown out, but it will ask that both delegations be seated, each to have a half vote.

The feeling at the conference was that if the contesting delegation was admitted even with only a quarter vote the victory will have been won. It was argued that the convention will be composed of many delegates who favor the nomination of Cleveland, and that there will be some others, who, while not favoring Cleveland, are opposed to Hill.

These two elements combined may make a majority of the convention, be able to constitute a committee on credentials, which would vote to give the contesting delegation a certain voting power and would vote to support such report of the committee in open convention. This would admit the delegation with a fractional vote, and what would be of far more consequence, would give it at once a standing which would enable it to play politics in accordance with its chief design, which is the nomination of Cleveland.

The contesting delegation being recognized nobody would be so quick to see its influence as Tammany hall. With the indorsement of the national convention it would be possible for the new machine to return to New York, and especially New York city, and to create an opposition to Tammany hall. Tammany could not accuse it of being an unwarranted opposition. The reply would be, "We have the warrant of the national convention."

The instant the delegates get such recognition from the national convention they will be in position to say to Tammany, "We are on your flank. We can go back to New York city and create an organization that would worry you mightily in the fall elections.

"There is no organization in the New York city democracy which amounts to anything which is not opposed to you. We can even name a man for mayor, run him as an anti-Tammany candidate and he will be the only man in the opposition whose brains you respect and whose courage you have tested to your sorrow before."

If Mr. Croker does not take this hint he will have lost some of his political astuteness; so it was said at this bolters' conference. The alternatives will be offered to him of making alliance tacit or outspoken with the contesting delegation by which Tammany will receive the promises not to be interfered with in the municipal elections next fall, while on the other hand it is to support tacitly or openly the candidate upon whom the contestants and their friends in other delegations may agree.

It is believed that Croker, knowing the immense value which the recognition of the national convention would prove to those who contemplated an opposition organization to Tammany, would hasten to make terms. Tammany would far rather, it is believed, have a clear field in New York city next fall than play tag to Gov. Hill's ambition and run the risk of seeing Wm. R. Grace a candidate for mayor with all his prestige and influence and with the recognition of the national convention behind him.

At all events this is the politics which is in the bolters' movement. The aim is to secure recognition by the national convention, and to secure upon the basis of an numeration of democratic voters throughout the state, and with such recognition to make a break in Hill's forces, especially in the direction of Tammany. If these things can be done the bolters believe that they will have played politics to overmatch Hill's, and while it may not make the nomination of Cleveland possible, it will secure at least the nomination of a Cleveland man.

A Branch Organized in Toledo Yesterday.

It is Called Toledo Lodge No. 9—An Order for Vessel Captains.

A meeting of vessel men having master's certificates was held in Express hall, St. Clair street, yesterday afternoon. There was a good attendance and a branch of the Excelsior Marine Benevolent association was organized, under the name of Toledo lodge, No. 9.

The officers were elected as follows: President, Capt. G. W. Stoddard; First Vice President, Capt. Al. Fitts; Second Vice President, Capt. Ed. McNelly; Treasurer, Capt. Charles Hubbard; Financial Secretary, Capt. L. Goss; Recording Secretary, Capt. C. H. Hubbard; Chaplain, Capt. Durand; Marshal Capt. James Cunningham; Warden, Capt. John M. Edson; Sentinel, Capt. C. LOCKE CURTIS

Is the Champion Chess Player of Ohio.

The Championship Contest Comes to a Close After Some Exciting Games—The Score.

It was too close for any comfort—the chess contest. Even when some of the contestants had but one game to play, that game would have given or lost them the championship. There was no lagging. They were all in a bunch. While the victor accomplished great things, still those who lost gained honors almost as great. It was no disgrace to lose in such a brilliant contest.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Cochran played with Mr. Willenberg, the latter winning. Mr. Curtis played with Mr. Bluenenschein and won the 73d move. This game decided the contest, and made C. Locke Curtis, of Toledo, the champion of the state.

The score at the close of the tournament stood as follows:

C. Locke Curtis, Toledo.....5 1-2 games
J. E. Martin, Toledo.........5 "
W. C. Cochran, Mt. Auburn..5 "
W. H. Willenberg, Cleveland.5 "
F. L. Bluenenschein, Dayton..4 1-2 "
Sydnor Hall, Cincinnati.....withdrawn

The victory of Mr. Curtis was hard earned. He is without doubt a great chess player. He was pitted against the best material the state could produce, and, as the score shows, it was no child's play. The visitors were well pleased with the result of the contest and the hospitable manner in which they were received by the Toledoans. They departed for their homes last evening.

HERE IS AN OFFER

To Give Toledo a Good Supply of Gas.

The Mayor's Committee Seems to Have Loosened All the Cranks in the Country—President Parsons' Troubles.

Col. Parsons, president of the board of natural gas trustees, is in a peck of trouble these days. Every mail deluges him with letters from cranks all over the country who have "ideas" on the gas question.

Their suggestions are as various as their number. One thinks a fan such as is used in large factories would be better than pumps to bring gas to Toledo.

"I have received one proposition which, I think, will be worthy the attention of the mayor's committee. A reputable citizen writes me that he will give a bond to supply Toledo with all the gas and pressure necessary at so much a cubic foot. He proposes using pumps, and will leave it optional with the city to buy out the pumps at the start or he will operate a year and supply gas at a nominal cost, and at the end of the year turn it over to the city, if the city so desires, at a specified price. The proposition in my opinion, is a fair one. We cannot lose anything by it, that's certain."

LOVELY LADIES TALK.

The Successful Meeting of Sorosis Society.

A Frank and Open Discussion of the Most Important Question Which Can Concern Any Woman.

An intensely interesting meeting of the Sorosis society was held on Monday, when the preparation of women for wifehood and motherhood was fully discussed. Mrs. Ada M. Brown, who presided, among other things, said.

"Woman's function in the world is determined by nature—she is made to be the mother of the race. Physiologically we must take into consideration that she may become a wife and a mother, though practically we ignore it. It is a mistake then to train girls precisely like boys. No true womanly woman wishes to be a man, she is quite satisfied to be a good specimen of her own sex."

Mrs. Doane spoke strongly and lamented the false modesty which forbade mothers facing squarely the true and needful education of their daughters. She advocated the special teaching of girls in public schools on matters of hygiene and physiology as they are taught in the colleges. "Life demands much more of our girls than it does of our boys," she said, "and we should recognize it. The schools educate our girls but ignore the fact that the happiness or misery of the coming generation lies in the hands of girls who, with all their learning, are ignorant of the vital principles which underlie the glory of wifehood and womanhood."

In how many hundreds of cases has disease, "like a worm in the bud," fed upon the damask cheek of some lovely woman who might have been well, who might have been happy had she only known the real cause and the simple and certain means of relief.

In this connection the valuable words of Mrs. Kendall came with marvellous force. She said:

"A few days ago I received a call from a charming lady, who stated that she was suffering, and wished to know if I could in any way aid her. There is no doubt that thousands of women are suffering today from similar troubles who do not realize the danger nor recognize the cause so nearly as this lady did. She felt peevish, restless, blue. She had headache, backache, cold feet and sinking sensations. Her complexion was sallow; her appetite fickle. I knew the cause, and I am happy to state that I was able to afford relief. I feel it my privilege to-day to state that I believe there is a means whereby women who are suffering can obtain complete relief, and those who are in health be continued in its enjoyment. A few years ago, a prominent and wealthy gentleman residing in Rochester, N. Y., was given up to die. By means of a simple and purely vegetable remedy he was restored to perfect health. So efficient did this remedy prove in the case of many well-known men, that it began also to be used by ladies, and to-day thousands of women in all parts of the land owe their restored health and continued happiness to the wonderful power of Warner's Safe Cure. This great remedy has been a godsend to hundreds of ladies whom I know, and I rejoice to think how much it has accomplished in restoring happiness and fitting women for the true enjoyment of life.

"The performance of the natural functions of womanhood and motherhood is not a disease, nor should it be so treated. If, however, the blood be impure, it is certain to produce poisonous effects in the parts with which it comes in contact, and thus causes inflammations and the innumerable ills which make the physical life of women so hard to endure. I am aware a prejudice exists against proprietary medicines, and that such prejudice is too often well founded, but we should discriminate—not condemn all because some are inefficient. The merits of Warner's Safe Cure have been proved beyond a doubt, because they deal directly with the cause of all female troubles

"The able and brilliant ladies who comprise the Sorosis society are doing a grand work in agitating this important subject. The future strength and happiness of the race depends upon the condition of women. If they are healthy, bright and vigorous, America will advance even more than it has in the past. If, on the other hand, the wives and mothers of the land are weak, morbid and sickly, little can be hoped for either the future prominence or power of this nation. If ladies will realize this and act accordingly the effect will be felt through future generations.

THE VAST BEYOND.

While towards the setting sun I turned,
And saw the clouds with gold aglow,
To see the vast beyond I yearned,
While more of God I longed to know.

O, the beyond, the dark beyond!
How shall poor mortals ever know?
The path of life may yet be found,
For Christ the way has come to show.

O, the beyond is near I feel,
And all I do must soon be done.
My powers for good I want to wield,
And after glory always run.

So soft the shining did appear,
And love looked out through smiling light,
My faith began to banish fear,
I felt so strong to do the right.

Above the clouds, by faith I see
The Lord of glory on his throne,
Who came to earth and died for me,
That I to him might surely come.

Prepare me, Lord, for the beyond;
Fill my poor heart so full of thee,
That free from stain I may be found,
And, cleansed from sin, may holy be.

O Lord! my soul does feel so weak,
And worldly cares do toss my bark;
I come thy goodness now to seek,
And live no longer in the dark.

IT HAS HAD NO EQUAL.

Close of the St. Louis Reform Congress.

Prohibition and Woman Suffrage Turned Down.

Factions Among the Delegates Turn the Convention Into a Bedlam —Closing Scenes.

St. Louis, Feb. 25.—A mammoth new political combination is in existence for the coming presidential campaign. So at least the delegates to the big national industrial conference which has ended here profess to believe.

So stormy a convention probably never before ended so quickly and in seeming harmony—that, too, after virtually slamming the doors in the face of a national party claiming a million voters and vainly seeking a union with the organization acting so summarily.

All the efforts of Miss Frances Willard for a juncture with the prohibitionists were coolly snuffed out by the convention at the last moment.

The net result of the convention is that they have by magnificent strategy effected a complete capture of the political strength of the Farmers' alliance in the south.

On the other hand, the southern alliance men, under plea of having acted as individuals, without in any way binding their organization, say that they have not altered one iota the position they have consistently held from a way back.

A resolution offered by Mr. Branch, of Georgia, to hold the democratic and republican parties responsible for the present condition of the poor people, was laid on the table.

Powderly demanded the expulsion from the convention of such "professional strikers at Albany," as he called Carsey of New York and Mr. Gallihu, and pointed them out.

In addition to the platform printed yesterday the following was adopted as a preamble:

This, the first great labor conference of the United States, and of the world, representing all divisions of urban and rural organized industry, assembled in national congress, invoking upon its action the blessing and protection of Almighty God, puts forth to and for the producers of the nation, this declaration of union and independence.

The conditions which surround us best justify our co-operation. We meet in the midst of a nation brought to the verge of moral, political and material ruin. Corruption dominates the ballot box, the legislatures, the congresses, and touches even the ermine of the bench. The people are demoralized. Many of the states have been compelled to isolate voters at the polling places, in order to prevent universal intimidation or bribery. The newspapers are subsidized or muzzled; public opinion silenced, business prostrated, our homes covered with mortgages, labor impoverished, and the land concentrating in the hands of capitalists. The urban workmen are denied the right of organization for self-protection, imported pauperized labor beats down their wages, a hireling standing army, unrecognized by our laws, is established to shoot them down, and they are rapidly degenerating to European conditions. The fruits of the toil of millions are boldly stolen to build up colossal fortunes, unprecedented in the history of the world, while their possessors despise the republic, and endanger liberty. From the same prolific womb of governmental injustice, we breed the two great classes —paupers and millionaires. The national power to create money is appropriated, to enrich bondholders; silver, which has been accepted as coin since the dawn of history, has been demonetized to add to the purchasing power of gold, by decreasing the value of all forms of property, as well as human labor, and the supply of currency is purposely abridged to fatten usurers, bankrupt enterprise and enslave industry. A vast conspiracy against mankind has been organized on two continents and is taking possession of the world. If not met and overthrown at once it forbodes terrible social convulsions, the destruction of civilization or the establishment of an absolute despotism.

In this crisis of human affairs the intelligent working people and producers of the United States have come together, in the name of peace, order and society, to defend liberty, prosperity and justice.

We declare our union and independence. We assert our purpose to vote with that political organization, which represents our principles.

We charge that the controlling influence dominating the old political parties has allowed the existing dreadful conditions to develop without serious effort to restrain or prevent them. Neither do they now intend to accomplish reform. They have agreed together to ignore, in the coming campaign, every issue but one. They propose to drown the outcries of a plundered people with the uproar of a sham battle over the tariff; so that corporations, national banks, rings, trusts, "watered stocks," the demonetization of silver, and the oppression of usurers, may all be lost sight of. They propose to sacrifice our homes and children upon the altar of mammon; to destroy the hopes of the multitude in order to secure corruption funds from the great lords of plunder.

We assert that the political organization, representing the political principles herein stated, is necessary to redress the grievances of which we complain.

Assembled on the anniversary of the birth of the illustrious man, who led the first great revolt on this continent, against oppression, filled with the sentiment that actuated that grand generation, we seek to restore the government of the republic to the hands of the "plain people," with whom it originated. Our doors stand open to all points of the compass. We ask all honest men to join with and help us.

Prohibition was hissed down and woman suffrage was referred to the several state legislatures.

A motion was made to appoint a committee to call a national convention, to act with the people's party in nominating a president and vice-president.

It failed and the convention adjourned sine die.

After the adjournment, and before the delegates left their seats, Gen. Weaver took the chair and the committee was appointed as follows:

Gen. Van Wick of Nebraska, C. W. McCune of Texas, M. I. Branch of Georgia, J. M. Powers of Nebraska, T. B. Maguire of New York, L. L. Polk of North Carolina, J. H. Willetts of Kansas, President Humphreys of the National Colored alliance, Pierce Hackett of Missouri, N. M. Barnett of Illinois (F M. B A.), L. P. Marrill of Louisiana, John Seitz of Ohio, Mrs. Mary E. Leese of Kansas, Mrs. Dr. Dabbs of Texas, Benjamin Terrill of Texas.

The Ignored Report.

The exact wording of the minority report by Miss Willard was much sought after as likely to play an important part in the coming national convention of the prohibition party. The full text is as follows:

1. We demand universal suffrage without distinction of sex.

2. We believe that the liquor traffic is the great enemy of reform in this nation, it is the chief foundation of corruption in our politics and we denounce its pernicious influence upon our country and we demand its suppression.

We hold that the states respectively have full authority to legislate concerning the sale of intoxicating liquors within their borders.

Therefore, when the people have by law interdicted or restricted the sale thereof it is the duty of the federal government to respect their action and collect no revenue from the traffic within such state except from persons permitted to sell under state authority, and whenever the laws of any state shall prohibit or restrict the sale of intoxicants, we demand that congress, in the exercise of the powers to regulate commerce among the states shall forbid under proper penalty all persons except those duly authorized by local authority, from transporting liquors into such states; and we arraign the republican and democratic parties for not respecting the reserved rights of the state in these particulars.

THE BOLT IN NEW YORK.

Will It Put New York in the Republican Ranks?

New York, Feb. 25.—Discussing the results at Albany, Oswald Ottendorfer, editor of the New York Staats Zeitung, says: "It is very unfortunate—very. I fear the result will be to throw New York out of the democratic column in November. That will certainly be the result if Mr. Hill is nominated by virtue of the tactics he has used.

"I noticed three speeches that were delivered at points far apart. Mr. Hill at Albany extolled the expediency and the desirability of winning by hook or crook. George William Curtis in Brooklyn and Grover Cleveland at Ann Arbor emphasized the necessity for moral principles as a basis in politics. For my part I am old fogy enough to pin my faith to morals rather than expediency.

"The upshot of the difficulty may be to send the nomination westward."

AGAINST FREE LUMBER.

Washington, Feb. 25.—In response to a call, originally signed by 23 southern lumber manufacturers, a convention of lumbermen will meet in Washington on Tuesday next to express their opposition to the bills which propose to place lumber on the free list.

A WOMAN'S BUILDING.

The Project Considered Yesterday Afternoon.

Committee Appointed on Ways and Means—General Feeling That the Move is a Wise One.

The rooms of the Law kindergarten were well filled yesterday afternoon with the members of the various women's clubs, when the chairman, Miss Emily S. Bouton, called the meeting to order, stated briefly its object, and requested Miss Mary Law to read a paper which she had prepared, presenting the subject more fully.

Miss Law said she was reminded of the Shakesperian proverb, "Some are born great, some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them." She felt that a great responsibility had been thrust upon her, in selecting her as the one to introduce the subject of a woman's club house to the women of Toledo. But those who listened to Miss Law's paper were of the opinion that she was born to the "greatness," or at least had achieved it. Miss Law said:

"It certainly is not news to any of you that Toledo is winning an enviable reputation abroad as one of the most progressive of our western cities, not only in lines of business and commerce, but in educational and literary fields as well. There are few cities of its size that can boast of as many literary clubs, musical and art societies. I heard a compliment the other day from a reliable source upon the women of Toledo. One gentleman, whose home was in Nankin, China, who has traveled much in America, said that in no city had he seen so many bright faces among the women as upon the streets of Toledo. Another gentleman from Washington uttered the same remarks in substance, that the women of Toledo, were noticeably bright and intelligent. I do not think it is vain boasting to say that the average intelligence of women in Toledo is higher than in many other cities. I think it is largely due to the noble women who in times past have banded themselves together in the various organizations to fight the battles of their sex, and have procured a freedom and individuality for women seldom seen in other places. The Toledo girl is never accused of dullness or monotony; she is her own peculiar self, thanks to her liberty. Now, the question is, how can we organize this splendid force of women, so that we can call upon them in a body when we need their concentrated helpfulness? Imagine some great disaster, happy rejoicing, or moral reform, what could be grander than the flower of Toledo's womanhood organized and ready for duty? We wish an organization so broad in its character, that no woman who wishes to become a member shall be refused on account of religion, politics, age or social condition. It is to be a woman's club, owned by them, managed by them, and a center for all kinds of educational and philanthropic work. Can we as women, representing all departments of educational and charitable work, artists and musicians, teachers and housekeepers, woman suffragists and anti-suffragists, W. C. T. U. and the non-partisan W. C. T. U., Catholic and orthodox, agnostic and Jew, can we not drop all such personal opinions and unite on a broad basis that will permit every woman the liberty to think for herself.

"The plan of the club if carried out will permit every club that desires a time and place of meeting as exclusively theirs as at the present time. Is there anything that would be a greater credit to Toledo than a beautiful, well appointed club house? Not one devoted to social purposes, only, but where one could attend good entertainments, meet their friends in the cosy reading room, or library, attend their weekly club, or a social party in the assembly room. There is no limit to the culture and refinement that would radiate from such a center. It is indeed a great understaking, but nothing is impossible to the women of Toledo if their hearts are enlisted. The newspapers seem willing to help us, everybody is enthusiastic, and all we have to do is to lay our plans wisely, put aside all differences of opinion, let those who are wisest and most able take the lead, and all work for one common end, The Toledo Women's club."

At the conclusion of Miss Law's paper, Mrs. Wheeler read a letter from the president of the Ladies' Literary club of Grand Rapids, full of encouraging words and practical suggestions. Mrs. Murphy read a letter from Mrs. May Wright Sewell, president of the Indianapolis Propylaeum.

The following is a brief extract from the "Historical Sketch" of the club house:

"On April 30, 1888, a committee of seven ladies appointed to serve the Indianapolis Woman's club by finding a suitable room in which it could hold its meetings, were startled by the proposition from their chairman, that they should at once reorganize themselves into a voluntary committee, to consider the feasibility of forming, among the women of Indianapolis, a stock company for the purpose of erecting and owning a building which should be specially adapted for the use of the various clubs, literary, artistic and social. By some the scheme was considered wild, by others it was received with enthusiasm. On the whole the committee were sufficiently encouraged to go forward. On June 6 they were incorporated under the name of the Indianapolis Propylaeum, with the privilege of issuing stock to the amount of $15,000. A committee of 15 ladies, assisted by two architects, spent over a year in a careful study of the designs for the exterior of the building. More money was needed, and the directors recommended the stockholders to increase the capital stock from $15,000 to $20,000 in May, 1889. By March 10, 1890, the stock was all sold. Contracts for the erection of the building were then awarded to a firm who agreed to complete it by October 1, 1890. The corner-stone was laid May 8, 1890. There have been the usual experiences of extra expenses, so that the cost of the Propylaeum as it now stands is about $28,000, including the lot. All this has been accomplished, in a business-like manner, by Indianapolis women. Toledo women believe that what has been done by women of other cities can be done by the women of this city. After the reading of this letter, the chairman called for an expression of opinion from the committees present from the different societies, and the following ladies responded, all expressing themselves in favor of the project:

The W. C. T. U.—Mrs. Clark.
Woman's Suffrage association—Mrs. D. C. Shaw.
Ramabai Circle—Mrs. Peck.
Emerson club—Mrs. Wheeler, Mrs. Breckenridge and Mrs. Rigby.
Isabella association—Mrs. Bissell and Mrs. Cotter.
Colloquial club—Mrs. Lang and Mrs. Ridenour.
Eurydice club—Miss Hamilton.
W. R. C.—Mrs. R. G. Bacon.
Political Equality—Mrs. Murphy.
Joan of Arc—Miss Katharine Calkins.
Ys—Miss Chapin.
Dante club—Mrs. Foley.
Non-Partisan W. C. T. U.—Mrs. Bentley.

Mrs. Lanz made a motion that a committee of nine, of which the chairman should be a member, be appointed on organization and ways and means.

The motion was adopted, and the chairmen appointed the following committee: Mrs. S. S. Bissell, Mrs. A. E. Lang, Miss Mary Law, Mrs. D. C. Shaw, Miss Anna C. Mott, Mrs. J. M. Wheeler, Mrs. C. Q. Murphy, Mrs. S. T. Fisk and Miss Emily Bouton.

The meeting adjourned to meet at the Law kindergarten rooms Wednesday afternoon, March 9, at 4 o'clock. All women, whether they are members of women's clubs, members of clubs to which men and women are both admitted, or if they are not connected with any club organization, if they are interested in the erection of a club house, or will assist the enterprise in any way, they are earnestly requested to be present. Definite action will be taken at this meeting. The committee will have found out whether public sentiment is for or against them, and it will probably be decided whether the Women's club house is to be a grand success or a dismal failure.

Enthusiastic but Practical.

While enthusiasm runs high, it is very evident that it is no air castle that is being contemplated, but a substantial brick, the designs for a three-story structure being displayed, not for adoption, but for the purpose of systematizing the rather chaotic ideas of what is necessary, into some semblance of order.

The caution, discretion and common sense displayed in all the arguments pro and con augur success. The ladies seem to be looking the matter squarely in the face. They realize the immensity of the undertaking, but they also realize the necessity for it, and believe that courage, determination and perseverance must win.

To partially supply the loss of natural flavor and color caused by this treatment, fragrant gums and dyes are used.

Dr. Sidney Ringer, Professor of Medicine at University College, London, and Physician to the College Hospital, perhaps the greatest English authority on the action of drugs, states in his "Handbook of Therapeutics" that "the sustained administration of alkalies and their carbonates renders the blood it is said, poorer in solids and in red corpuscles, and impairs the nutrition of the body." Of ammonia, carbonate of ammonia, and spirits of ammonia, he says: "These preparations have many properties in common with the alkaline, potash, and soda group. They possess a strong alkaline reaction, are freely soluble in water, have a high diffusion-power, and dissolve the animal textures. . . . If administered too long, they excite catarrh of the stomach and intestines."

TOLEDO REAL ESTATE.

The Season Opens Up Briskly, With Fine Prospects.

Mr. Cushing Speaks of the Late Nashville Meeting,

And Favors the Organization of an Exchange—Other Dealers' Views—Transfers for the Past Week.

Winter has drawn its white mantle from the stock-in-trade of the real estate dealer, and leaves it somewhat disfigured to the tender mercies of spring, to be re-touched and decorated by the beauties of nature.

Notwithstanding the deep snow, downpour of rain, slush, tempered with an occasional "nor'wester," Toledo real estate dealers put over an exceptionally good winter. Barring a "rough and tumble four-points-down" tussle with the grip, they come up smiling, in "fightin'" trim, with bargains for all, regardless of profit or loss.

It has indeed been an exceptionally good winter in real estate. There is at all times and at all seasons of the year, a certain amount of property moving, but winter is, as might be expected, the dullest season of the year in real estate. However, the rule does not apply to the one just closing, with regard to Toledo real estate. Dealers report, and the records bear them out, that the winter season has not been so lively in Toledo for ten years. Another singular thing, a majority of the sales made involved inside property, and a favorable point is, no small portion of it is vacant property, which will be improved during the coming summer.

During the winter the improvement of vacant property never ceased. Contractors, carpenters, masons and in fact all building-tradesmen have been busy most of the season through. Before the first of March the splendid Nasby block near the corner of Huron and Madison streets will be ready for occupancy, erected during the winter months by Horace S. Walbridge & Co., whose enterprise was one too many for Jack Frost and the King Winter.

Aside from this many other valuable improvements have been made, all of which is good evidence of the gigantic strides in the grand march of prosperity, led by Toledo to that goal, "Toledo Great," instead of "Future Great."

Last year was the most prosperous one, in real estate, that Toledo has known in years, and this year promises still greater activity. Prospects were never brighter. Architects have been busy all winter perfecting plans for the erection of numerous splendid business blocks, that will be constructed during the summer months. There is going to beimprovement everywhere, something for all to do and plenty for him who will work.

Home for Workingmen.

"I have not been in Toledo so very long," remarked F. W. Sturtevant, of the real estate firm of Napier & Sturtevant, "but I have observed that she has in truth a 'future great.' The corporate lines embrace a vast territory, which to some cities would be like a badly trimmed canvas to a boat in a gale, likely to swamp her. Instead of impeding Toledo's progress, these many acres of unimproved property, by the enterprise and ambition of her citizens, will be turned to account in the city's favor.

This is apparent whereever you turn. I was surprised when I made a tour over the city, at the great number of new houses to be seen on every hand, and still more so to learn that a majority of them were owned by the occupants. The cosy appearance of these homes is a true index to the character of the owner, and such men any city should be proud to claim as citizens. What makes a city pure and wholesome, is plenty of room to grow, and give the workingman an opportunity to have a home of his own. Give him a chance to invest in a home of his own, to pay for it with what he can save out of his wages, and it will create a desire to economize and save. The result is, before very long he owns a home and is the better for it. He can hold his head up among men, is a better citizen and the city is the better for it."

A Busy Season Apprehended.

"Last year was the best we ever had," remarked Ira A. Richardson of the firm of Richardson & Son, to a Bee, "and other real estate dealers report just about the same. This has been an extraordinary good winter, the business keeping up almost to summer standard. There has been a good demand for residence property, and prices are exceptionally firm. February has been rather dull, but then we can console ourselves that it is in all probability the calm before the storm. I apprehend that we are going to have a phenomenal season judging from present indications. We are going to have a regular building boom. There never was a spring in my existence that opened up with such flattering prospects. There are at least a half dozen fine business blocks on the tapis, and the end of the season will find as many more in way of completion. Dwelling houses were erected in almost innumerable numbers last year, and building will be as lively in that respect this year. We have solicited bids for four houses on Walton Bro.'s addition, to be contracted for at once, and will build as many more."

The Late Real Estate Congress.

"Was the Nashville real estate congress a success?" said Henry H. Cushing in answer to a question from a Bee this morning. "Well, I should say so. It was one of the most enthusiastic conventions ever held in this country. Nearly 700 representative real estate men from all over the country met to carry out the motto 'unity and action.' The real estate interest of this country represents a large proportion of its wealth, and the business to which it gives rise is the most important and extensive in the community. In the growth of every city the real estate men figure most conspicuously. If they are energetic, public-spirited and foresighted, the city develops rapidly and is wide awake; but if they are slow, selfish and too conservative the city's growth is retarded accordingly. If the same people who located and built up Chicago had moved to Toledo instead we would have had a Chicago here to-day. Our location, we believe, surpasses that of the windy city, and our adjacent country is by far the richer in every business.

"The tendency of these times is to combine and organize for mutual co-operation, and it is strange that real estate men were among the last to appreciate and take advantage of this modern dogma; however, to-day, in most of our enterprising cities, the real estate men have organized local boards, and the national congress is an outgrowth of the potent factors in growth of this country, representing, as it does, the chief elements of the growth of the different sections of the country. The National Real Estate association, as it is now called, is placed upon a firm foundation, and upon a broad sense of operation. One of the principal objects of this organization is to bring about a more uniform method of doing business, and to direct legislation bearing upon the conveyancing of realty, and upon liens and mortgages as to make the laws more simple and uniform.

The machinery of our business is the present mode of land transfer in vogue in this country. Transfers are made after the inspection of recorded deeds. The title, however, passes upon the delivery of the deed, but the recording of the same gives notice to subsequent purchasers. In this system the trials come in trying to get your title straightened out. After supporting a lawyer for a month or so, and spending your earnings upon a big, cumbersome abstract, you still remain uncertain whether your title is perfect or not. It has been estimated that in the state of Illinois alone during the year of 1891, over $10,000,000 in cold, solid cash was paid out by property owners to abstract men and lawyers for looking up titles. In most of the countries of Europe a similar system to ours is in use, and in England they are worse off than we are, as there is no recording office except in two counties, and the original deed must be produced. It has been left for Australia to lead the world in the matter of land transfer, for the Torrens system, in vogue in that country, is by far the most complete and satisfactory system in existence.

"It consists in conveying by registration, but the government guarantees the title. A certificate is issued by the registrar and is the sole evidence of ownership, and after being once registered no transfer can be made except upon the presentation of the certificate, the same as the rule governing the transfer of stock in a stock company. A very interesting paper was read at the convention by Mr. Edward Atkinson, of Boston, who advocates the adoption of this system in the United States. We have adopted the Australian system of voting and why not their system of land transfer?

"A paper was read before the congress, written by Mr. Geo. E. Pomeroy, of our city, upon the subject of local real estate boards, which gave rise to one of the most interesting discussions during the session. This subject was considered by the delegates as of great importance especially by the delegates from those cities which had no board. I am full of facts and figures upon this subject, and as the only delegate from Toledo, I intend to interest myself in the matter of organizing a local board here, and trust that we may be able before next October, when the convention meets in Buffalo, to have a flourishing, well organized association."

Coming of the Kendals Next Saturday.

Held by the Enemy at the People's Next Week—Private Secretary at the Wheeler.

The coming of the Kendals next Saturday at Wheeler's is an event in the theatrical world the importance of which is clearly evidenced by the interest taken. Since Mr. and Mrs. Kendal first visited this country two years ago, they have, as most theater goers are aware, achieved on the occasion of their two American engagements great success from an artistic and pecuniary point of view, and their extraordinary reception of sustained successes are among the most noted dramatic events of late years. The coming engagement will be Mr. and Mrs. Kendal's first and only visit to this city. The play for the engagement will consist of the most popular play in their repertoire, The Ironmaster.

Held by the Enemy.

Wm. Gillette's sterling war drama, Held by the Enemy, is the bill offered patrons of the People's for the coming week, beginning Monday evening. It is unquestionably Gillette's best effort, for while Held by the Enemy may be equaled, it can never be surpassed for cleverness, cleanliness, strength and popularity. It is a drama without a villain and a patriotic appeal to the sentiments of those who wore the blue and the gray. The play actually needs no introduction, as it has been seen on several occasions, each visit resulting in a series of well filled houses.

Private Secretary.

This high class comedy will be presented at Wheeler's next Monday evening. The Norfolk Virginian speaks as follows of the presentation in that city:

"Gillette's New Private Secretary was presented at the Academy of Music last evening before a large and fashionable audience. The performance was the best yet given here of that attraction, and it was heartily enjoyed. The company is a very strong one, and wherever it appears good houses should follow."

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Progress Made Up to the Present Time.

Report of the Commissioners Sent to Congress to Aid the Work of Getting More Funds.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The report of the Columbian commission submitted to congress is signed by President Palmer and dated Chicago, November 25, 1891. A general outline of the substance of this report has been made public though Mr. Palmer refused to give out the report when he presented it to the president.

The report speaks of the satisfactory advancement in every department of the work and of assured success. The exposition site is described, the various buildings enumerated and the work of the administrative departments commended.

The following comment is made under the heading, the "Board of Lady Managers:" This auxiliary body is actively and energetically engaged in the work within the sphere assigned to it by the commission, and its achievements already vindicate the propriety of its creation and leave no room for doubt that it will be the means of enlarging the influence and usefulness of women of all participating nations as well as our own."

Of the proposed loan of $5,000,000 the report says: "During the fifth session of the national commission, held in September, 1891, the world's fair Columbian exposition (the Illinois corporation) after having made a careful and accurate estimate of the expenditures that would be required to prepare and equip the grounds and buildings in a manner reasonably adequate to meet the demands of the exposition, determined that it would be necessary for the corporation to secure a loan of $5,000,000, and also that it intended to apply to the congress of the United States for such loan."

The actions of such commission, the report says, is based on the finding by the directory of the Illinois corporation of the necessity for the loan, and upon the further fact that in the judgment of the commission, the Illinois corporation had made ample provision for acquiring the $10,000,000 which it was required to raise and furnish by the act of congress, and had fully discharged its obligation in that behalf.

The commission recommends that provision be made for its necessary current expenses, in order that it may be able to properly discharge the duties and functions imposed upon it by congress. It also asks an appropriation to pay awards.

Under date of February 16, 1892, President Palmer of the World's Columbian commission, writes to the president calling attention to a report submitted on November 25, 1891, reciting the action taken by the national commission upon the proposition of the Illinois corporation to apply to congress for a loan of $5,000,000. Since that report was submitted the board of reference and control of the national commission had been authoritatively advised by the Illinois corporation that it had reconsidered its purpose to apply to congress for a loan of $5,000,000 and had determined to apply for an appropriation for a like sum. It was proper to state that an aggregate expenditure of $18,000,000 would have been made up to the time of the opening of the gates of the exposition. It would be apparent, therefore, that while the Illinois corporation had made ample provision for the sum of $10,000,000 in fulfillment of the obligations imposed upon it by the act of congress, it would still (even should an appropriation of $5,000,000 be made by congress), be required to provide an additional sum of $3,000,000. President Palmer says in closing that the appeal to congress for aid is entitled to special consideration.

MRS. DEACON'S VERSION

Of the Fatal Shooting of M. Abeille.

Her Husband Had No Cause for Jealousy.

Her Guest Had Plenty of Time to Escape Had He Been Guilty of Any Wrong-Doing.

Paris, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Deacon arrived here from Cannes, accompanied by her maid, and went to her residence in the Rue de Grenelle. She had obtained permission from the Juge d'Instruction at Cannes to go to Paris for the purpose of consulting her legal adviser.

When she reached her house she closed the door to all visitors except her lawyer and a reporter, to whom she made a statement regarding the tragic event of last week which throws quite a new light on the subject.

She said: "On the eve of the fatal day I had been visiting the Countess de Pourtales and was very tired. After dinner with my husband I went with him to see my mother, Mrs. Baldwin, where M. Abeille arrived a few minutes later.

"I had known M. Abeille for a long time, and my husband was aware of the frequency of his visits.

"At Paris as well as at Cannes he was always received in our house as an intimate friend, and on the evening in question he accompanied me to my apartments, as he had often done before.

"The apartments are composed of a sitting-room and bedroom, and, as when at home I am accustomed to act without ceremony, I went into my bedroom to put on a dressing gown, while M. Abeille remained in the sitting-room.

"He was in evening dress, but wore a smoking jacket instead of a coat, and we were quietly conversing together when the door of my room was violently shaken and kicked at, and I heard my husband shout: 'Open the door or I will burst it in!'

"As I was in the sitting-room, it took me some little time to cross my bed room and light a candle I had left—one of the parlor candles—on the mantelpiece.

"Having lighted it, I opened the door and saw my husband armed with an enormous revolver. This frightened me very much, for, although I am accustomed to bad treatment from him, I never expected to see him force his way into my room armed with a revolver.

"M. Abeille, who had remained in the sitting room, was expecting as little as myself to witness the drama of which he was to be the victim, and was reclining against the mantelpiece when he suddenly found himself confronted by my husband, who levelled his revolver at him.

"I did my best to prevent my husband from proceeding further, but he shook me aside brutally and rushed at Abeille, who instinctively tried to find shelter behind the sofa.

"My husband thereupon fired three shots at him at close quarters, and two of the bullets inflicted mortal wounds, while the third lodged in one of the sofa cushions.

"I was terribly alarmed and ran to look for my maid, who, as a rule, waited upon me until I retired to rest, but on the evening in question she had asked to be excused, as she felt very tired and so had gone to bed.

"I was the first to raise up M. Abeille while my husband made his escape.

Nothing to Justify the Deed.

"There was nothing to justify the criminal act. If we had been guilty M. Abeille might easily have effected his escape, as the sitting room communicates with the passage, and, on the other hand, a cornice, 20 centimeters wide at least, runs round the outer wall of the hotel, upon which he could easily have walked and got into another room.

"The best proof that we have nothing to be ashamed of is that he remained where he was, and that his appearance as well as mine showed that we were simply conversing together when he was attacked in such a cowardly manner.

"I am aware that it has been said that I took a great deal too long to open my door, but you must remember that I was in the sitting-room and it took me some little time to light the candle."

Deacon Was Always Jealous.

"How do you account for the conduct of your husband?"

"My husband has always been of an exceedingly jealous disposition ever since I married him, now fourteen years ago, and it is only within the last two years that he has allowed me to go out alone. Then again, he was addicted to strong drinks, and was not always in full possession of his faculties. His mother, Mrs. Deacon, you know, is out of her mind and is confined in an insane asylum in America."

"It has been said that Mr. Deacon had no private means and received a monthly allowance of 300 francs from you."

"My husband has a personal income of 35,000 francs. His property was quite distinct from mine. I have always kept up the house, and Mr. Deacon never contributed towards the household expenses."

His Infamous Charge Denied.

"Were there any financial dealings between M. Abeille and Mr. Deacon?"

"No, never. It was also said that Mr. Deacon sometimes passed the night at the Hotel Bristol, in order to allow us greater liberty. It is quite true that Mr. Deacon went to Paris and stayed there three nights when we removed from the Rue Marbeuf, but he did so only because the rooms which had been set apart for him in our new residence smelt of fresh paint."

"Have your relations with the Abeille family never been interrupted?"

"Oh! certainly not; only a week ago I was on a visit to the Vicomtess de La Redorte, at her villa at Monte Carlo, and she expected me again very soon. The vicomtess is a sister of M. Abeille, and, what is more, when M. Abille's brother arrived at Cannes after the tragedy, he and his sister at once called upon me."

Hoofland's Bitters tone the stomach.

FOOLED HIS COUNTRY GIRL.

Banker Lidderdale Played a Double Role.

His Death Notice Was Inserted to Cover His Departure with a Woman of Wealth.

London, Feb. 25.—The reported kidnaping of the small bank manager, W. R. Lidderdale, is the absurd invention of a provincial penny-a-liner who has been wandering about London, and who came to the office of the United Press and offered, three days ago, to sell the story for three shillings, enough to insure him a dinner and lodgings.

The truth is that Lidderdale, who was the manager of a small branch of an obscure provincial bank, and a person not of the slightest importance, except to the grocer and haberdasher, while engaged in courting a country girl, became enamored of a woman named Beatrice Vining, living in Bath, and variously described as an American, a Spaniard or a Creole.

She had some money, which probably attracted Lidderdale to some extent. At any rate Lidderdale and Breatie disappeared at the same time in the early part of January, and it is believed that they were married in London and took a steamer for Australia.

In order to deceive his country girl, Lidderdale caused a notice of his own death to be put in the London papers.

DELIGHTFUL MEETING

Of the Young Women's Christian Temperance Union

At the Home of Miss Kenyon—Mrs. Barnes, the National President, Present.

Mrs. Frances J. Barnes, of New York, national presndent of the Y. W. C. T. U., arrived in the city yesterday and was the guest of Mrs. Leander Burdick until to-day.

Last evening she was entertained at a parlor meeting of the local Ys held at the home of Miss Kate Kenyon, 224 Twelfth street. This was one of the best parlor meetings that has been held by the organization, and was very largely attended by members and a few guests.

Miss Stewart, president of the Toledo Ys, was also present, having returned from Chicago, where she is now located, for this occasion.

The meeting opened with a solo by Miss Frey, after which devotional exercises were conducted by Mr. William Lewis.

An excellent paper on the uses and advantages of water was read by Miss Lucretia Heston, and Mr. Frank Garn rendered a tenor solo in a pleasing manner.

Mrs. Barnes then gave an interesting talk that was greatly enjoyed by the guests. She reviewed the organization briefly, and told of its spread, until now there are successful unions, not only in America, but also in Europe, South Africa and Australia. She related several instances of the great work being done by the Ys, and paid a high compliment to the Toledo union, the largest in the world and one of the most active.

Mrs. Barnes is a pleasing speaker, and the Ys were much delighted with her.

A piano duet by Misses Elizabeth Paddock and Lamoille Tillinghast was one of the features of the evening, and a series of bright sketches, entitled "Scenes from Life," were acted by a picked company. These captured the party by storm and received hearty applause. The conclusion was a one-act comedy, "What Leap Year Profiteth Us," scene, an alcove in Pythian castle, during the Leap Year ball of '92; dramatis personae, Belles of the Four Hundred.

Light refreshments were served, and the remainder of the evening was spent in social conversation and shaking hands with Mrs. Barnes, who had a pleasant word for all.

Mrs. Barnes went to Chicago to-day, but will return Saturday, on which day a reception will be held in Trinity Guild rooms from 3 to 6. On Sunday evening she will deliver an address at the First Congregational church.

To-morrow afternoon the regular meeting of the Ys will be held in the parlors of the First.

DISCOURAGED!

No Woman Will Be on Reading This.

A lady who for years had suffered from nervous weakness, malaria, headache, backache, excessive nervousness, and who complained of feeling tired all the time, disheartened at repeated failures to find relief, exclaimed:

"I am discouraged, and suppose I must drag out the rest of my life feeling wretched and miserable."

A sympathizing friend encouraged her with words of hope. "There is one thing you have not yet used—the great nerve and health restorative, Dr. Greene's Nervura. This wonderful discovery cured me, and I am sure it will cure you."

THERE ARE THOUSANDS OF WOMEN WHO NEED THE SAME ENCOURAGEMENT, especially in the Spring, when all physical and nervous ills are aggravated, and if they will use this remarkable female invigorator, it will certainly restore health, strength and vigor. Purely vegetable and harmless. Druggists, $1.

"I deem it my duty to say that I think Dr. Greene's Nervura the best medicine in the world. My kidneys were in a terrible state, I had awful pains in the back and side, and could not sleep at night. My headache was a source of great annoyance and I suffered much at certain periods. I can not speak too highly of Dr. Greene's Nervura, for it cured me of my terrible complaints. Why, I felt so miserable that I often thought I would take my own life. I thank God for directing me to Dr. Greene's Nervura.

MRS. LILA C. ROOT,
36 Elm St., New Bedford, Mass."

GENERAL BOOTH'S WISDOM.

In an interview with a representative of the Madras Mail, General Booth, the generalissimo of the Salvation army, is reported to have said: "Respectability is the curse of nearly every department in the world. Everybody appears to be above the condition of life for which God has designed him. Dig your fruit out of your earth, praise God, and live happily with your wife and children. This is most favorable to health and happiness. What do you find everywhere instead of this? There is a rush to the towns everywhere. Go to Australia, or even Africa, and the cry is just the same. Population is aggregating and surging in the cities, and all sorts of miseries are prevalent. I come to India, and here it is again. It is all education. Make your people good and show them how to earn their bread on the land, and then, if you have anything left, cultivate your intellect and count the stars."—New York Recorder.
